ADVANTAGE OF THE PRESIDENT IS INCREASED BY BELATED RETURNS FROM THE ELECTION ON TUESDAY

Now Seems Assured of at Least 272, and Probably 276 Votes in Electoral College.

NO SPLIT IN CALIFORNIA?

Certified Count in New Hampshire Complete Shows a Democratic Plurality of 63.

MINNESOTA STILL IN DOUBT

Chairman McCormick "Locks Up" and Returns to His Home.

New York, Nov. 11. — Today's returns from Tuesday's election served only to increase the advantage of President Wilson, who now seems assured of at least 272 and probably 276 votes in the electoral college. New Hampshire, which had wavered from Wilson to Hughes for three days, late today dropped into the Democratic column by a plurality of 63 votes. This was on complete certified returns in the hands of the secretary of state.

California Probably Solid.

The few additional returns from California and New Mexico did not reduce Mr. Wilson's lead in those states. In addition the Democrats found comfort in a dispatch from Los Angeles which said that a difference of only 654 votes was found between the highest and lowest of the Democratic electors in the semi-official count conducted by the registrar of votes. Election officials expressed the opinion that these figures made it unlikely that the official count would split California's electoral vote.

Troops' Vote May Decide.

Corrected returns from Ramsey county, Minnesota, today reduced Charles E. Hughes' plurality in the state to 239, but tonight the first returns from the National Guardsmen on the border ran it up to 283. Political experts said this made it virtually certain that the state would be swung by the two remaining regiments on the international line. About 2,000 votes were cast by the soldiers, but all of them will not be counted until next week.

McCormick Goes Home.

With the presidential contest settled to the satisfaction of the Democratic managers, Chairman McCormick, of the National committee left for his home in Harrisburg today, but Chairman Willcox, of the Republican committee, steadfastly refused to concede that Mr. Hughes had been defeated. He pointed to the 1912 contest in California, where the pendulum swung back and forth for weeks, to justify his position. Nothing would be conceded or claimed, he said, until the final count was in.

Concern Over Congress.

Democratic concern today was chiefly in the make-up of the next Congress. The Senate will be Democratic by a safe majority but, with the major parties virtually tied in the number of seats so far won in the lower branch, attention turned to the Progressives, Socialists and independents, who are almost certain to wield the balance of power in its organization. Three Progressives, one Socialist, one independent, and one Prohibitionist will vote in the election of a speaker and may cast the deciding votes in all the important legislative matters coming before the 65th Congress.

SPLIT IN THE ELECTORAL VOTE IN CALIFORNIA UNLIKELY

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 11.—A difference of only 654 votes was found today between the highest and lowest of the Democratic electors in the semi-official count conducted by the registrar of votes. Election officials expressed the opinion that these figures made it seem unlikely that the official count would result in splitting California's electoral vote.

HUGHES' DEFEAT BLAMED TO "FEW PETTY POLITICIANS"

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Governor Hiram Johnson, successful candidate for the United States senatorship on the Republican and Progressive ticket, issued a statement today charging that "a few petty politicians" acting in conjunction with certain newspapers "so misused Mr. Hughes and his visit to California, that the injury they did we were unable to undo." To this, the statement ascribes the Wilson plurality in the state.

William H. Crocker, Republican National committeeman, and Francis V. Keesling, former chairman of the Republican state central committee, are named as having "made it appear that Mr. Hughes was entirely reactionary and that he was neither in accord with nor sympathetic with California's progress and achievements."

Mr. Crocker, after reading a portion of the statement, said: "I prefer to maintain a dignified silence."

VOTE OF TROOPS INCREASES HUGHES' PLURALITY SLIGHTLY

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 11.—Charles E. Hughes' plurality in Minnesota was slightly increased tonight when the first results of the Minnesota guardsmen's vote was announced. He carried the first regiment by 2% votes. Tonight this made the vote for 3,021 precincts

Willcox Awaits Official Count Before Conceding the Election

Issues Statement Pointing Out the Fluctuation of the Lead Between President Wilson and Colonel Roosevelt in California in 1912—Republican Chairman Confers With Hughes.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D.C.

New York, Nov. 11.—A statement showing the fluctuation of the lead between President Wilson and Colonel Roosevelt in California in 1912 from day to day for a month after the election and how the state finally went in favor of Roosevelt after Wilson was first credited with winning, was issued here today by Chairman William R. Willcox, of the Republican National Committee, to "show precisely why the Republican National Committee cannot, at this time, concede the election of Mr. Wilson and must wait the official count in this and other states."

"The record shows," Mr. Willcox's statement read, "that Mr. Wilson was first in the lead; that subsequently this lead was taken by Colonel Roosevelt and that finally the delegation to the electoral college from California was divided, two electors being for Mr. Wilson and 11 for Colonel Roosevelt."

Mr. Willcox had a conference with Charles E. Hughes, today, during which the situation was discussed. No announcement came from Mr. Hughes in regard to his own plans. Mr. Willcox said afterward that he and, he thought, Mr. Hughes, would remain here until the first of next week. He said he did not expect official counts from the doubtful states to begin coming in before then, and that it would be more than a week at least before they were complete. He would not venture a guess on how much longer than that it might take.

CROWDS MEET THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN

He Witnesses Demonstrations at Troy and Albany in Celebration of His Victory.

RETURNING TO WASHINGTON

One Man at Albany Shouts to Mr. Wilson, "We're With You for Four More Years of Peace and Prosperity."

On Board President Wilson's Special, Albany, N. Y., Nov. 11.—President Wilson, returning to Washington for the first time in two months, tonight witnessed a demonstration at Troy and Albany in celebration of the outcome of the election. Crowds at both places cheered him again and again. The President thanked them for their congratulations.

Here at Albany a procession was arranged in his honor. The railroad station was crowded and many persons rushed forward to shake President Wilson's hand. Former Governor Glynn, of New York, who was temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention, was at the station with other Democratic leaders.

As President Wilson's train rolled into Albany, torpedoes were exploded on the tracks and locomotive whistles shrieked. Before the President arrived the crowd had paraded through the business section of the city.

President Wilson shook hands with many persons at Troy. "We're with you four more years of peace and prosperity," shouted one man.

"Thank you," replied the President.

"How's baby Sayre?" asked another.

"Fine," responded President Wilson.

One man leaped on the observation platform beside the President and led the cheering.

The President is due to arrive in Washington tomorrow night after a trip down the Hudson river from Rhine Cliff, N. Y., to New York on the naval yacht Mayflower. He is to board a train in New York at 3:34 P. M. tomorrow.

He left Williamstown, Mass., where he went to act as godfather for his newest grandchild, at 5:25 o'clock this afternoon. A crowd of students from Williams College saw him leave.

WILL MAKE TRIP DOWN THE HUDSON RIVER TO NEW YORK

Rhine Cliff, N. Y., Nov. 11.—President Wilson arrived here tonight from Williamstown, Mass., and at once boarded the naval yacht Mayflower, which lay at anchor in the Hudson river. The President directed that the Mayflower proceed slowly to New York at daybreak tomorrow. He expects to land in New York tomorrow afternoon. On his way here from Albany tonight the President was cheered at several small towns. At Germantown, N. Y., a band played in his honor.

J. S. BABER KILLS WIFE.

Shoots Her Down in Boarding House at Spartanburg, S. C.

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 11.—John S. Baber shot and killed his wife in a boarding house here today and then killed himself. The couple had been separated about one year and it was said Baber attempted to affect a conciliation today.

ONLY ONE AMERICAN ABOARD.

Paul R. Danner Was on Steamer Arabia When It Was Sunk.

London, Nov. 11. — Consul at Bombay, India, states that only one American, Paul Rutledge Danner, was on board the British steamer Arabia, sunk November 6, in the Mediterranean, says a Reuter dispatch from Bombay.

U. D. C. TO MEET AT CHATTANOOGA NEXT

Declare Against Text Books Which Do Not Portray True History of the South.

CONVENTION COMES TO END

Resolutions Adopted at Final Session Which Lasted Late Last Night. Asheville Competed for Next Convention.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 11.—After selecting Chattanooga, Tenn., as the 1917 convention city the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the final session of its 22nd annual meeting here tonight, adopted resolutions declaring against histories and other text books used in Southern schools "which do not portray true history of the South," and inaugurated a campaign for the adoption of the phrase "War Between the States," as a substitute for "Civil War."

Other resolutions adopted included an endorsement of the congressional project for the placing of a Clara Barton window in the Red Cross Memorial building at Washington and funds were provided for installing a memorial window in the building by the organization. Provision also was made to eliminate the deficit in the Arlington monument fund.

The final session tonight continued until a late hour.

Chattanooga was chosen for the 1917 convention after the claims of St. Louis, Asheville and Birmingham had been considered. The Tennessee delegation parodied a popular song-invitation to "come to Tennessee," as their campaign battle cry and won.

Scores of reports dealing with the educational, historical philanthropical and memorial work of the organization were disposed of today and tonight.

The educational committee report, delivered by Miss Mary B. Poppenheim, showed that 45 scholarships, with an aggregate valuation of $65,000 had been given by the Daughters during the past year. Beneficiaries were descendants of the Daughters and residents of the South. A total of $2,500 for relief work was contributed and disbursed during the past year, another report showed, the money having been spent on needy Confederate veterans.

The Daughters' university prize of $100 in cash was awarded to Harold R. Blake, of Dayton, O.

Deficiency of $3,265 in the Arlington monument fund was announced by the treasurer general, of which $1,200 is secured by a pledge. The remainder is to be obtained through assessments.

TENTH DISTRICT STILL CLAIMED BY BOTH SIDES.

Will Not be Settled Until Thursday. Returns Give Britt Lead.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 11.—The complex situation in the Tenth congressional district, wherein Congressman James J. Britt, Republican, and Zebulon Weaver, Democrat, are both claiming election, is unchanged and will remain so until next Thursday, when the Buncombe county board of canvassers will meet after adjourning today without certifying the returns of Tuesday's election in this county.

The official returns of the district give Congressman Britt a majority of 13 votes, but the Democratic managers assert that a recount of the ballots in this county and in others of the district will give Mr. Weaver a majority.

STRESS NEED OF TRAINED MINISTRY

Rev. Dr. L. L. Lohr and Rev. J. L. Seiber Speakers at Synod Last Night.

URGE PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Delegates Enjoy Outing at Wrightsville Beach—Woman's Conference Elects New Officers—Splendid Programme for Today.

The main addresses at last night's session of the Convention of the United Synod of the Lutheran church in the South, which will close its proceedings tomorrow at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Wilmington with business sessions, were delivered by Rev. Dr. L. L. Lohr, who made an earnest plea for a thoroughly trained and educated ministry, and Rev. J. L. Sieber, who stressed the importance of the publicity campaign which is being carried on by the Publication Board of the Lutheran church.

"The church can preserve its existence only in so far as it raises up an intelligent and efficient ministry," said Dr. Lohr. "It impairs its life and vitality when it neglects these things. Mere prayer for the coming of the Kingdom of God is not enough. The church must co-operate with God, and God arranges the order of things in such a way as to give man a part in the work of his Church, yet this part in the work of man does not destroy the power of God to do all the work Himself.

Efficient Ministry Needed.

"God has seen fit to use men as instruments in his hands to spread the offers of salvation. Now we must have an educated ministry to do this work. Only through a properly prepared ministry can we meet and offset error, we must not only be able to point out a more excellent way but to prove that this is the right way.

"We have men in this world who can only be reached through the brain. You must get their brains to accept Christianity, although their hearts have already done so. We have to accept human nature as it is. Doubting Thomases must be made to see before they believe. Our Lord did not hesitate to give His disciples visual proof when he asked it.

"Paul persuaded both Jews and Greeks to accept Christianity. A man less fitted and mentally not have so impressed King Agrippa, the Roman ruler, who declared after hearing his lucid and logical statement, 'Almost thou persuadest me to accept Christianity.'

"The great need today is for men called of God and strongly furnished unto all good works. This is God's method. Our Seminary is following this method. In this day in which we are living the man whom the Church sends forth must be equipped to combat the forces of so-called scientists who deny the truth and seek to set up false doctrines.

"Some of the most devout and able ministers that the Lutheran Church has sent out have been educated at the Seminary. It is doing well the work for which it was established. It is raising up an intelligent, consecrated and efficient ministry. That is the task it sets for itself and it has not done its work in vain. Ministers can go out from it, only as our young men come in. It deserves your prayers, your moral and financial support."

Rev. Mr. Sieber Speaks.

Speaking on the subject of "Our Publication Interests," Rev. Mr. Sieber declared that to make any perceptible progress the church must launch a publicity campaign.

He referred to the method pursued by the Apostle Paul as a model for publicity work for the propagation of the gospel and declared that the success of the Reformation Movement in its initial stages 400 years ago was due in a great measure to the publications of that age. Continuing, he said:

"It is necessary to have a Lutheran intelligence. We need to have information in order to satisfy those who are asking questions concerning our doctrines and practices. The Board of Publications is the place to get this information. The fundamental principle of all progress is in intelligence concerning our own church and its work. An illustration of the spontaneous result of intelligence and publicity, it is only necessary to cite the successful manner in which it was spread through the establishment of the first church in Antioch.

"Our own church has the greatest right to live, because it preaches the pure Gospel of God to all men and having this pure faith it is a duty we owe to ourselves and the world to publish it."

The speaker closed with an urgent appeal for loyalty and co-operation with the publication board on the part of the entire membership of the church and its pastors in the great work it is doing in spreading the gospel.

May Move Orphanage.

At a business session of Synod held immediately following the address by Rev. Dr. Lohr, the question of moving the Lutheran Orphan's Home from Salem, Va., to some other places which would offer more inducements in the way of land and money was discussed. Another alternative, the building of more cottages at the present site was also discussed, but no course of action was decided upon. The whole matter will be again taken up at one of the business sessions tomorrow.

The delegates to the convention enjoyed a fine outing at Wrightsville Beach yesterday afternoon, boarding special cars at a point near the convention church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and returning to the city in time

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF ATTEMPTING TO BLACKMAIL COUNTESS VON BERNSTORFF

Karl A. Graves, Self-Styled International Spy and Magazine Writer, Taken in Custody of Federal Agents at Washington—Is Alleged to Have Made Effort to Secure $3,000 — Had Documents Brought From Germany.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Karl Armgaard Graves, a self-styled international spy and magazine writer, was arrested here today by agents of the Department of Justice and charged with attempting to extort $3,000 from Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador, by threatening to publish letters "alleged to contain matter showing her infirmaties and failings'." Officials of the embassy also alleged that Graves had in his possession what apparently were confidential coded dispatches from the German government to Count von Bernstorff.

Smuggled Past British Censors.

The prisoner told the Federal agents he obtained all the documents from persons who smuggled them past the British censors on the steamship Oscar II. The warrant upon which he was arraigned tonight and held on $2,000 bail for a further hearing Wednesday charges him also with bringing into the District of Columbia letters stolen in Hoboken, N. J., where the Oscar II docks.

In a statement after his arraignment at which he entered a plea of not guilty, Graves asserted that he had no intention of blackmailing the countess, that he objected to the use of the word blackmail, and that the papers he had in his possession were "purely diplomatic" in character.

Much interest was aroused in official quarters at the indirect exposure of the manner in which persons and officials in Germany apparently are avoiding the British censorship in communicating with the German embassy here.

In Negotiation With Embassy.

The arrest of Graves furnishes a dramatic conclusion to negotiations which had been in progress for a week between him and Prince Hatzfeldt, counsellor of the German embassy. Graves is said to have came to Washington last week and called at the embassy. He was known there as the man who had published widely what he alleged to be important secrets of the German war office and the Hohenzollerns. He was also known as a man who previously had described himself as a member of the German secret service, and later as an employee in foreign fields of the British foreign office. "The master spy" he calls himself.

Officials allege that upon entering the office of Prince Hatzfeldt he made it known that he had in his possession the papers which today brought about his arrest. One letter which he exhibited was to the Countess von Bernstorff from her son, an officer in the German army. He said, according to statements made by Federal officials tonight, that he had other letters that would prove "embarrassing" for the countess should they be published.

The official dispatches were said to be useless to him for the reason that he could not decipher them. He is alleged to have asked for $3,000 in cash if he delivered the papers. He also is alleged to have asked Prince Hatzfeldt to prepare and sign a statement that the money had been paid for services rendered the German government. Embassy officials said Graves threatened to turn over some of the documents to White House officials if the $3,000 was not forthcoming.

The letters showed no postmark, and officials of the embassy were convinced that they had been obtained in some manner from a confidential messenger whose identity was still undisclosed. Prince Hatzfeldt promised promised to take the matter under consideration.

Caught in Trap.

Prince Hatzfeldt communicated with the district attorney's office immediately after Graves left his office. Another meeting was arraigned, and yesterday Graves telegraphed from New York that he would arrive later in the day. Prince Hatzfeldt put $3,000 into an envelope and with two agents of the Department of Justice awaited Graves at his home, but Graves failed to appear.

This morning Graves called the embassy and requested an appointment with Prince Hatzfeldt. A few hours later he arrived and conversed with the counsellor at his home for half an hour. One Federal agent was hiding behind a door in the room. Another was in the street outside. A police detective was nearby.

It is said that Prince Hatzfeldt showed Graves the $3,000 and that the latter said he would get from his hotel some of the documents. Leaving the house, he walked into the arms of a Federal agent, and was taken to the Department of Justice, where he was examined. At the end of the examination, A. Bruce Bielaski, in charge of the bureau of investigation, swore out a warrant. All the papers in Graves' possession were seized.

The letter which Graves is alleged to have said would prove "embarrassing" to Countess von Bernstorff, was couched, Federal investigators asserted, in "endearing terms" and signed with initials only. Officials asserted that the communication was from a woman cousin of Count von Bernstorff who has been taking care of his and the countess' business affairs in Germany.

When arraigned in the office of United States Commissioner Taylor, Graves requested that, should he be unable to secure a bondsman, he be permitted to spend the night in a hotel, under guard of detectives. A professional bondsman furnished the required sum.

Graves made the following statement to newspaper men:

Statement to Newspaper Men

"I have nothing so important to say. I have declared my intention of becoming a citizen of this country and have taken out my first papers.

"I have been in this country two years and nine months. I was once connected with the British foreign office, but I am no more.

"I came to Washington for the sole purpose of disposing of the papers. I had no intention of blackmailing the Countess von Bernstorff. I made no attempt to communicate with the countess. I do not deal with women. I did deal with Prince Hatzfeldt.

"I will not at this time discuss the contents of the papers I had. I will say, however, that I was employing the same methods which the German embassy has used in this country for the past two years and four months."

WILL REMAIN IN MILL HOUSES UNTIL MONDAY

Writs of Ejectment Not Served on Operatives at Anderson.

Officials Hesitated to Drive Tenants Out in the Rain Yesterday—Four Hundred State Troops Arrive on the Scene.

Anderson, S. C., Nov. 11.—After the arrival here today of some 400 South Carolina coast guard artillery men, it was decided to wait until Monday to serve writs of ejectment against striking mill operatives residing on mill property. Meanwhile conferences were held with a view to starting up the mills which closed down August 31, last, after the employes demanded a 10 per cent wage increase.

The state soldiers were sent here by Governor Manning after Sheriff Ashley declined to eject the tenants until "they get houses to move into."

It was said today's postponement was due to the desire of Major William F. Robertson, of Greenville, commanding the troops, to acquaint himself with local conditions, and because mill officials hesitated to drive the tenants out in a rain.

It was stated by those interested that 75 per cent of the workers in one of the mill villages, all of which are near here, had expressed their willingness to return to work under conditions prevailing before the mills closed down. Managers of the mills stated tonight that they would be guided entirely by Major Robertson's opinion in deciding whether or not to renew operations. Conditions were quiet today and there was no indication that there would be any clashes between soldiers and citizens.

The mills which closed down are Equinox and the Gluck mills, manufacturers of cotton ducking. Ejectments were against certain stayers on the Equinox mill property.

Charged With Violating Interstate Commerce Act by Rebating or Shipping Less Than Carloads at Carload Rates.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Fines totalling more than $171,000, were assessed by Federal Judge Landis today against Swift & Company, packers, and a number of railroads convicted of violating the interstate commerce act. In most of the cases, the charges were rebating or in shipping less than carload shipments at carload rates.

In addition, fines ranging from $100 to $1,000 were assessed against the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul.

The charge against Swift & Company was that it shipped less than carload shipments to Michigan points at the carload rates.

The Pennsylvania fine and the $20,000 fine against the P. C. C. & St. Louis were for rebating to the W. H. Merritt Company, a Chicago board of trade firm, while the $50,000 fine was for rebating to B. A. Eckhart, head of the Eckhart Milling Company.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 11.—Jack Corbett, former manager of the Asheville N. C., League Club, has been signed as playing manager, secretary and business manager of the local South Atlantic League team, it was announced tonight.

AMERICAN SHIP IS BELIEVED SUNK BY A GERMAN U-BOAT

Steamer Columbian Reported on Wednesday That She Was Being Shelled by Submarine.

CREW LANDED IN SPAIN?

Announcement of the Belief That the Vessel Was Sunk is Made by Lloyd's Agency.

London, Nov. 11.—The American steamer Columbian is believed to have been sunk, according to an announcement by Lloyd's. It was reported here on Wednesday that the Columbian was sending out wireless calls for help, saying she was being shelled by a submarine. The calls were picked up at that time by admiralty stations.

Nothing further, however, had been heard of the Columbia until tonight's statement from Lloyd's shipping agency.

London, Nov. 11.—The crew of the American steamship Columbian has arrived at Corunno, Spain, in life boats, says a Reuter dispatch from Madrid.

CASE TO BE LAID BEFORE THE PRESIDENT NEXT WEEK.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The case of the American steamer Columbian, reported sunk off the Danish coast, will be laid before President Wilson by the State Department early next week as part of a general summary of recent submarine operations, construed by some officials as forecasting a radical change in the German policy.

Information regarding the Columbian was so incomplete tonight that no official would predict what part the case might play in final determination of this government's course. Late in the day the American consul at Balboa forwarded the report that the vessel had been sunk 30 miles off Cape Ortegal and her crew saved, but no details were given.

Points to be cleared up before a decision is reached involve the question of whether the vessel was fired on without warning, whether she carried contraband, and whether she attempted to escape.

All available facts regarding the Columbian will be collected as soon as possibe. Information on the Marina, Arabin and Lanao cases aso is still incomplete, but every report received so far regarding these vessels will be placed before the President as soon as he returns to his desk at the White House.

NO CLEARANCE PAPERS FOR THE DEUTSCHLAND ISSUED

German Undersea Liner Will Not Make Dash to Sea Today.

New London, Conn., Nov. 11. — No clearance papers had been issued to Captain Paul Koenig, of the German commercial submarine Deutschland, tonight, and none will be issued tomorrow, according to Joseph C. Comstock, deputy collector of customs here. Members of the vessel's crew in the city on shore leave said also that their vessel would not leave port tonight or Sunday.

Rumors were current tonight that the German submarine U-57 and the U-59 might be expected here at any time to act as convoys for the Deutschland.

Harvard Wins With Score of 3 Points

SAVE GAME WITH PRINCETON ONLY THROUGH ALERT DEFENSE AND ABILITY TO QUICKLY SOLVE TIGER ATTACK

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11.—By the narrow margin of a solitary field goal the Harvard football team defeated Princeton here this afternoon in the annual contest between the two universities. The three points were an accurate indication of the difference in the relative attacking strength of the two elevens.

Princeton sent into the stadium today the best football machine built in Nassau land in many seasons and it was only the extremely alert defense and ability to solve quickly the Tiger attack that saved Harvard from a no-score tie, if not defeat.

Princeton launched its hardest attack against the Crimson without finding a weak point in the Harvard armor, whereas the Haughton-coached machine was able at the crucial moment to sweep aside the Orange and Black line with an impetuousness that made the kicking of a field goal by Horween a simple piece of the play. The struggle was witnessed by the largest assemblage of football enthusiasts that has attended an eastern game this autumn. Close to 40,000 spectaors filled the great horse shoe stadium and overflowed into the temporary stands at the open end of the structure. Princeton adherents were present by the thousands and the Orange and Black were almost as conspicuous as the Harvard Crimson. The game was played under almost perfect weather, the high wind alone bothering the players in the handling of punts.

The two teams battled back and forth within the 25-yard lines through the entire first two periods of play. Harvard's opportunity came in the third period ,however, and the Crimson was quick to turn it into victory. A punting duel between Driggs and Horween reached a stage when the Princeton fullback kicked almost from his own goal line into the wind and the ball went out of bounds on Princeton's 42 yard line.

Quarterback Murray turned loose Harvard's hardest drive on the Princeton line and Horween smashed and Casey skirted to the Tigers 20 yard line. Here Coach Rush sent Winn to replace Moore at right half back for Princeton. Winn carried a message for Captain Hogg and in his eagerness to deliver it forgot to report to Referee Langford, and the Tigers were penalized 15 yards. It was Harvard's ball on the first down on Princeton's 5-yard line.

Horween and Murray battered out three yards in two plunges. Then the Crimson forwards were held in their anxiety to score and the team was set back 15 yards. Horween, standing on Princeton's 26-yard line and directly in front of the goal posts then lifted a drop kick across the bar for the only score of the contest.

Harvard did not show as much in the way of varied or novel attack as Princeton, but the victors were extremely active and followed the ball equally as well as the Tigers.

Driggs runs from kick formations behind excellent interference gained ground for a time, as did a new play uncovered by Princeton for the first time this sason.

It consisted of sending a half back far out beyond the end and having him come in toward the center of play on the run as the ball was snapped as an interferer or receiver of the forward pass. The Harvard defense soon solved this play, however, and Princeton appeared to be left with little or no further attack.

TENNESSEE DEFEATS THE STRONG VANDERBILT TEAM

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 11.—One of the biggest upsets of the football season in the South occurred here today when the University of Tennessee defeated the Vanderbilt eleven 10 to 6. Conquerers of Virginia and many lesser schools this season, the Commodores were regarded as a strong contender for Southern football honors, but a touchdown scored in the final period of play sent Vanderbilt's hopes of championship honors aglimmering.

CLEMSON IS OUTCLASSED BY VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE

Richmond, Va., Nov. 11.—Virginia Military Institute defeated Clemson college here today by a 37 to 7 score. The Virginians outclassed their opponents during most of the battle but in the final period Clemson opened a series of forward passes, one of which Banks caught and scored on after a 40-yard run. Sullivan intercepted another pass and sprinted 45 yards for the last touchdown.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The Army defeated the University of Maine today 17 to 3 in a poorly played game. The cadets displayed poor form throughout. Maine was weak on the offense, although they fought pluckily against odds.

Davidson Outplays Carolina But Loses

UNIVERSITY ELEVEN WINS 10 TO 6, ALL THE SCORING BY BOTH TEAMS BEING DONE IN THE FOURTH PERIOD

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 11.—Although outplayed by Davidson, the University of North Carolina won the annual football game today by a score of 10 to 6. Folger, for Carolina, was the star of the game, while Black, for Davidson, also showed class. All the scoring came in the fourth quarter. A field goal by Captain Tandy, a touchdown by Folger after a 61-yard run through a broken field, and a goal kick by Tandy netted Carolina ten points and the game. A forward pass to Flowers by Lawson saved Davidson from the shut-out. Lawson made an unsuccessful attempt to kick goal.

The weather was rather warm for football but one of the largest crowds that ever attended a game here was present.

PACKARD INCREASES PRICES.

After First 4,500 Cars Are Sold Purchasers to Pay More.

Owing to the persistent advance in the cost of practically all the materials entering into the manufacture of motor carriages, the Packard Company has announced an increaet of $185 on the "2-25", which is the smaller Twin Six, and $235 on the Packard of longer wheelbase which is known as the "2-35". The new prices are $3,050 and $3,500 on all open cars.

The increased prices apply to all orders for delivery after February 1, 1917; also to deliveries before that date after the first 4,500 cars of the new model have been sold. That means a period of perhaps four or five weeks during which it will be possible to purchase Twin Sixes at the original prices for delivery within the next few months.

In explanation of the price advance, H. H. Hills, sales manager, made the following statement:

"We are continually endeavoring to better our product and make it more luxurious and comfortable, and we are therefore prepared to make any price adjustment that may be necessary rather than sacrifice Packard quality. Our dealers and patrons have shown their appreciation of this policy over a period of years as is illustrated by the fact that months before prices are known orders are placed because it is known that the quality will be maintained, or improved if possible, and that the price is governed by the cost of manufacturing plus a reasonable profit."

WASHINGTON & LEE SCORES 8 TOUCHDOWNS ON BUCKNELL

Lexington, Va., Nov. 11.—Washington and Lee piled up eight touchdowns against Bucknell in their annual football game here today, winning 55 to 7. The Pennsylvanians' lone score came early in the game when Captain Young dropped the ball when tackled near his own goal line after receiving a punt. Washington and Lee used the tackles over play very effectively, but varied it with swinging end runs, line smashes and overhead passing.

Navy Overwhelms Tar Heel Eleven

MIDDIES INVADE A. & M. GOAL LINE SEVEN TIMES AND WIN THE GAME BY THE SCORE OF FIFTY TO NOTHING.

Annpolis, Md., Nov. 11.—The Annapolis midshipmen today more than retrieved the defeat by the North Carolina A. & M. College last season, 24 to 12, by rolling up a total of 50 points against the Tar Heels. The Southerners played a ragged game and at no stage did they endanger the Navy goal line.

Navy showed some improvement, both offensively and defensively, as compared to previous performances. The Middies invaded the Aggies' goal line seven times and Perry kicked a pretty drop goal from the field at a distance of 41 yards.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, a native of North Carolina, with Mrs. Daniels, witnessed the game. The line-up:

S. Carolina Easy Prey For Virginia

CHARLOTTESVILLE ELEVEN WON GRIDIRON STRUGGLE ABOUT AS THEY PLEASED—SCORE 36 TO 6.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 11.—Virginia won about as she pleased over the University of South Carolina on Lambeth field today, 33 to 6. After the Orange and Blue had registered five touchdowns an entirely new team was sent i nand it was against this eleven that Carolina scored its single touchdown, Quarterback Semrie circled left end for 40 yards, and a score.

Quarterback White proved Virginia's principal ground gainer, running 60 yards once and going 45 yards through the Carolina team after a kick off. Thurman's punting was a feature of the contest. Line-up:

WAKE FOREST 'VARSITY DEFEATS A. & M. SCRUBS.

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 11.—The Wake Forest 'varsity aspirants and the A. & M. scrubs battled to a 7 to 7 tie on the former's home gridiron this afternoon. The two elevens were evenly matched, and equipped with their respective 'varsity tam players, showed up stronger on the offensive, although both lines held well at critical moments.

The clever work of Quarterback Thompson and the line plunging of Washburn and Lichenor were three factors in Wake Forest's showing. Hines' brilliant return of a kick-off for 45 yards made the visitors' touchdown possible. Both elevens threatened to score in the final quarter, the whistle blowing as Leggett was racing towards A. & M.'s goal after intercepting a pass.

WAKE FOREST FRESHMEN WIN OVER THE SOPHOMORE ELEVEN

Wake Forest, N. C., Nov. 11.—For the first time in the history of class football at Wake Forest College the freshmen eleven triumphed over the sophomores yesterday afternoon, getting a 6 to 0 decision in a well earned, clean-cut victory. The game was characterized by loose playing and numerous penalties on the part of both elevens; but was closely contested throughout.

Three quarters passed without either side scoring, although the sophomores three times carried the ball to within their opponents' five yard line.

PENNSYLVANIA PLAYS THE DARTMOUTH TEAM TO A TIE

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Pennsylvania and Dartmouth played a 7 to 7 tie football game on Franklin field today. The Pennsylvanians outplayed the Hanover in every period and in nearly every department of the game but a fumble in the third period enabled Dartmouth to get a tie. Captain Gerrish picked up the bounding pall on Pennsylvania's 35-yard line and dashed 30 yards before he was thrown. In two plays Dartmouth took the ball over for the score.

BROWN ROMPS AWAY WITH GAME OVER YALE ELEVEN

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11.— Yale footfall stock, which has been above par this season, took a sudden tumbie today when Brown romped away with the annual game 21 to 6. Brown made three touchdowns and kicked the goals. Yale, while rushing the ball well at times, lacked the punch so Braden's drop kicking ability was resorted to with kood success. He made good in two out of three attempts for all of Yale points. The game was filled with thrilal, most of which were contributed by Pollard, Brown's fleet negro half back. He reeled off sensational runs at frequent intervals. In the last period, with Brown leading by a point, he made victory certain by ducking, dodging and squirming through the whole Yale team 55 yards for a touchdown.

ALABAMA ELIMINATED FROM THE CHAMPIONSHIP RACE.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Alabama was eliminated from the Southern football championship race here today by Georgia Tech, winning from the Tuscaloosa team 13 to 0 in a game played part of the time in a driving rain. Fumbles were frequent. Both of Techs' touchdowns were scored in the final period.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The goal kicking ability of Fritz Shiverick, Cornell quarterback, worked disaster for Michigan here today and was a prominent factor in Cornell's defeat of the Wolverines, 23 to 20.

Keeps Her Children In Perfect Health

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the Family Laxative for Many Years.

Mrs. Aug. Doellefeld, of Carlyle, Ill., recently wrote to Dr. Caldwell, at Monticello, Ill., that she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in her home for a number of years, and would not be without it, as with it she has been able to keep her four children in perfect health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the bowels in an easy, natural way, and regulates the action of this most important function. Nearly all the sickness to which children are subject is traceable to bowel inaction, and a mild, dependable laxative, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. It is pleasant to the taste and children like it, and take it readily, while it is equally effective for adults.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure you get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. See that a fac-simile of Dr. Caldwell's signature and his portrait appear on the yellow carton in which the bottle is packed. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 455 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

VIOLENT FIGHTING RESUMED IN BOTH THEATRES OF WAR

Berlin Admits a Slight Gain by the British on the Somme Front Near Courcelette.

MUCH AEROPLANE ACTIVITY

Russo-Rumanian Advance in Dobrudja Continues; Two More Towns Are Occupied.

Violent fighting is again in progress on the eastern and western fronts, but no great change in the positions of the opposing armies has yet been reported. Fair weather on the Somme front has brought more vigorous activity by the Franco-British and German forces. General Haig's men in an attack in the Thiepval-Courcelette area, London states, have taken the eastern part of the Regina trench on the front of 1,000 yards. Berlin admits a British gain northeast of Courcelette, but says only a small portion of an advanced trench was entered.

Crown Prince Rupprecht failed in an attack against the French lines near Deniecourt ,south of the Somme, Paris records. Berlin states that a French attack in the Sailly-Saillisel sector was repulsed.

Several Aeroplanes Destroyed.

On the western front, the Germans brought down ten Entente aeroplanes and the French put five German machines out of action.

The Austro-Germans and Russians continue to fight furiously in the Baranovichi region and along the Narayuvka southeast of Lemberg in Galicia. Petrograd says that parts of trenches near Skrobowa, northeast of Baranovichi, taken by the Germans, have been re-captured by the Russians, but Berlin asserts all attacks in that sector were repulsed.

Conflicting Claims in Russia.

On the Narayuvka front the Germans, Berlin claims, entered a Russian position and held it against five counter attacks. Petrograd, however, says German attacks in this region were repulsed and that the attackers were ejected from a portion of a trench they had occupied.

The Russian and Rumanian advance in Dobrudja toward the Tchernavoda-Constanza railway line continues. Petrograd reports the occupation of two more towns along the Danube between Hirsova and Tchernavoda. A belated official report from Sofia admits Entente successes, but Berlin continues to report no change in the area under Field Marshal von Mackensen's control. Unofficially it is reported von Mackensen has been driven back to the railway line.

Both Sides Claims Gains.

Both the Austro-Germans and Rumanians claim successes along the Transylvania-Rumanian frontier. South of Predeal Berlin records an advance for Archduke Charles, while Bucharest claims the capture of a trench near Dragoslavie and of Mount Frurtzile on the left bank of the Alt river.

Official reports indicate a renewal of atcivity on the Macedonian front north of the Cerna river. South of Polog, Berlin says, the Entente troops have gained some ground.

Except for a small Italian advance on the Carso, there has been no activity of moment on the Austro-Italian front.

POLES ARE CALLED UPON TO FORM NEW POLISH ARMY

Berlin, Nov. 11 (via Sayville) — An Austro-German proclamation to the Poles, calling upon them to volunteer for the new Polish army, which will serve in intimate association with the armies of the Central Powers, has been published at Warsaw and Lublin.

DEMOCRATS IN CHARGE OF NEXT U. S. CENSUS

Under Direction of Sam. L. Rogers, a North Carolinian.

First Time Since the Civil War—Charters Issued—Two Pardons Granted—Interesting Health Bulletin.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—It is a matter of gratified comment among State officers here that, with the assurance that President Wilson is re-elected, a Democratic administration will for the first time since the Civil War, have charge of a full fledged census of the country. This will be taken in 1920 and will, now that Wilson is re-elected, be taken under the direction of a Democratic commissioner in the person of Hon. S. L. Rogers, who was for a long while a member of the North Carolina Corporation Commission.

Charters were issued today for the following new corporations:

The United Motion Picture Theatres Co., (Inc.), of Asheville, capital $10,000 authorized and $510 subscribed.

The M. Carland Co., Canton, capital $6,000 authorized and $2,100 subscribed by J. J. Yates, M. Carland and others, for a general mercantile business.

The Dixie Hog & Grain Co., of Henderson, capital $1,000 authorized and $500 subscribed by J. R. Teague and others.

An amendment to the charter of the Durham Cigar Store Co., reduces the capital from $8,000 to $7,500. H. M. Kramer is secretary.

Two Pardons Granted.

Governor Craig has pardoned Waverly Towns, Warren county, who has served since June, 1915, on a three year jail sentence for manslaughter, on the ground that he has been sufficiently punished, since it is now agreed that the death of his victim was due to an accident.

Another pardon is for Harry Durham, Warren county, who has served since June, 1913, on a 15-year sentence for incest, the authorities that prosecuted and convicted indicating to the Governor that they are satisfied now that Durham was not guilty.

That the presence of typhoid fever bears the stigma of disgrace is the insistance of the State Board of Health in a bulletin just issued, the insistance being that its presence betrays filth either as to food and drink or as to personal habits. Ignorance can no longer be used as a cloak to hide the disgrace, it is insisted, as the people generally now know how it is contracted, how prevented and how immunity against it may be had for several years at a time through vaccination.

Dr. John L. Alexander

Mr. Alexander, of Chicago, who is superintendent of the Secondary Division of the International Sunday School Association, has been secured to deliver a number of addresses at the State Sunday School convention, which meets in Burlington on Friday of this week.

to attend the evening session at 8 o'clock.

The principal feature of the Woman's United Missionary Conferences of Synod was the election of officers at a session held yesterday morning. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. M. O. J. Kreps, of Columbia, S. C.; recording secretary, Mrs. R. F. Bowe, of Greenville, S. C.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. A. Copenhaver, Burke's Garden, Va.; treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Kiser, Hickory, N. C. The presidents of each synodical society will be ex-officio vice-presidents.

The afternoon session of the Synod was opened with prayer, led by Rev. E. A. Repass, Ph. D. The consideration of reports of the Committee on Foreign Missions was resumed. Rev. C. L. Brown made an urgent plea that $50,000 be the amount raised for a memorial fund for the Japanese work. His plea was accepted by the synod, and the desired amount was authorized. A plan looking to giving the mission on the ground permission to organize and ordain candidates for the ministry, after a proper examination of their fitness, was discussed.

FIVE BUILDINGS ARE BURNED AT NORFOLK

Ten Wholesale Concerns Wiped Out in $300,000 Fire.

Blaze Started in Willis-Smith-Crall Furniture Warehouse and Gained Much Headway Before Discovered—Firemen Hurt.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 11.—Fire which originated in the furniture warehouse of Willis-Smith-Crall, on Water street, early this afternoon destroyed five buildings and wiped out ten wholesale business concerns. Four firemen were injured by falling walls. Samuel Kramp, whose hip was crushed, is the only one in a serious condition. The losses will total at least $300,000. The principal concerns gutted by the fire were:

L. A. Hall Company, coppersmiths; Tidewater Supply Company, mill machinery; T. M. Cushin, junk dealer; Henry Walke Company, mill supplies; Twin City Iron Works; Norfolk Hide & Tallow Company; Gwaltney Hay & Grain Company; Porter Moore Company, machinery; Wilson, Drummond & Biddle Corporation, hay and grain. A number of smaller establishments were damaged.

The fire originated on the fourth floor of the Willis-Smith-Crall warehouse and gained great headway. It was not discovered until a hot-air explosion blew out the front windows on the fourth floor of the building. The flames quickly jumped across the narrow street, sweeping both sides for a half block. At 7 o'clock the fire was announced under control.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

Large Delegation From Wilmington will Go to Burlington This Week.

A large delegation is expected to go from Wilmington Thursday to attend the State Sunday School convention in Burlington, which will meet on Friday night and continue through Saturday and Sunday following. Others will go Friday to attend the sessions of the convention. Mr. Davis H. Howes, Jr., who will attend, will be glad to supply all information desired about the convention.

Mr. John L. Alexander, of Chicago, superintendent of the Secondary Division of the International Sunday School Association, has been secured to deliver a number of addresses and to conduct several conferences. As a leader of leaders of adolescent ages, Mr. Alexander is considered the highest authority in North America, if not in the world, and it is a very rare opportunity for those interested in constructive and educational lines of work for young people to hear a master, no matter what the particular line of work may be. Mr. Alexander is helping leaders to promote a plan of work which has been many years in the making, and which is already revolutionizing the great Teen Age section of the work, and at the same time is strengthening and vitalizing other agencies doing special work with these eventful years.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

'Tis greatly wise to talk with our past hours;
And ask them what report they bore to heaven;
And how they might have borne more welcome news.
—YOUNG.

Simmer down! Simmer down!

We will now settle down and think about settling up.

The American people were on the job last Tuesday.

Yes, we knew long before the election that the majority would win.

We protest against those who try to argue against this ensemble of melange.

How can a man be full of life when most of it is a little dab of salad on a dinkey plate?

As our old friend Josh Billings would say, "what's good for some is pizen for 'tothers."

President Wilson did not have to ask the South to do a thing. The South surely knows its business.

Lots of folks wanted Hughes, but they could not swallow him and take Roosevelt as a chaser.

The question is whether Teddy led the Progressives or whether he only imagined he could lead them.

As a matter of fact, so far as being in the saddle is concerned, some of us haven't seen a saddle since we landed a flivver.

Sing a new song. Don't hang your harp on a willow tree. "Then be up and doing, Still achieving, still pursuing." Chase yourself around after something or other.

Whatever may be our doubts and fears about the election, we have an idea that the women had a great deal to say as to who should occupy the White House for the next four years.

Secretary Daniels has remained in a quiescent state since the election, but we know it is about all he can do to suppress a volcanic eruption of gladness. Same here. Shake!

The fight is over. Therefore, it ought to be all over with the fighters. We ought to be too proud to fight after we have already fought and walked off with the iron cross and all the iron works.

Wilson won in every state, except one, in which women voted, and they possibly re-elected the President. The state excepted was Illinois where it is stated that 60,000 colored women stuck to Hughes.

Well, well, the returns from Minnesota indicate that Miss Jeanette Rankin has been elected to Congress. She is a Republican but we have to wait and see her picture before we will admit that Republicanism has anything attractive about it.

We never saw such close voting in any election as the neck and neck races between party candidates from the Atlantic to the Pacific. From president down to senators and representatives, the successful ones, either Democratic or Republican, got there by a wonderfully close shave.

The Star or the Associated Press either might have announced the result of the election on the strength of the positive claims of Democratic National headquarters several hours before midnight Thursday, but we remember that a number of New York and North Carolina papers made positive announcements Wednesday morning on the strength of something besides actual count of enough votes to give either candidate a majority—and they were sorely stung.

SECTIONALISM IS DEAD

A Southport gentleman writes us that "sectionalism is dead." We know it, because we remember all about its funeral. Ever since this campaign broke forth in all its fury we have insisted that sectionalism is dead, in spite of the fact that Judge Hughes had an idea that it could be resurrected for campaign purposes. He was mistaken. Sectionalism is as dead as Hector, and it must even strike the Republican candidate for president that the ghost of sectionalism was snowed under last Tuesday. Nevertheless, here comes all this language confirming The Star's frequent statements that sectionalism is dead:

To the Editor of The Star:

"I have no complaint to make. Such demonstrations, I am disposed to think, make votes for the Republican party." To this expression I would add that the Republican party will thrive until such demonstrations cease.

I very much regretted to read your editorial of this morning entitled "Methods and Manners, Jeers and Hoots." Your criticism of Mr. Taft and his remark after the action of a bunch of rowdies shows the color of your democracy—the tainted democracy of an ignorant and narrow mind. Mr. Taft was right, in my opinion, (qualifying as did Mr. Taft in his remark) in that such actions tend only to make more men Republicans.

I am glad that Mr. Wilson won the election. He is one of a small class of Democrats that I willingly concede much to. God grant that there may be more such by another election.

If I did not see in your editorial the time-worn method of sectional fanatics to win victories I would not say a word, but the spirit is too evident.

I want to say this much right now: That sectionalism is dead and the sooner you and your narrow sheet find it out the better off both of you will be. I agree with Mr. Wilson that any effort to revive sectionalism will result only in the offender breaking his neck.

Such eminent statesmen as Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson are above anything that you or I can say. Mr. Hughes' respectability is beyond reproach. Mr. Roosevelt's notoriousness can probably take care of itself.

The "Solid South" voted for Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900 against another eminent statesmen, Mr. William McKinley. Mr. Wilson was unable to retain Mr. Bryan in his cabinet. Perhaps the reason is a mystery to such "Democrats" as you cater to.

There is no honor to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bryan or any other "Democrat" in carrying the "Solid South." There is no honor to the "Solid South" in Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bryan or any other "Democrat" winning an election. It is a foregone conclusion (in the "Solid South.)

More of the spirit expressed in your columns, this date, from Kinston, N. C., November 7, 1916: "Republicans co-operated with the Democratic organization here tonight in securing election returns," is needed.

Mob Methods and Manners, Mob Jeers and Hoots mean as little to such men as Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson as the vote of the "Solid South" does.

Very truly yours,
ALBERT R. BRUCE.

Southport, N. C., Nov. 8.

Those who read The Star will recognize the fact that the writer of the above "got up wrong end foremost" on the morning following the 7th of November. We get up that way ourselves sometimes, but we don't go off half cocked like some people who imagine they have a duty to perform in calling down a newspaper for expressing opinions differing from theirs. Of course, we expect Republicans to differ with us in our opinions, for if they agreed with us we would suspect ourself of being a Republican. We are only sorry that Republicans do differ with us, but we are content to have 158,000 North Carolina Democrats who agree with us in a general way. That is where we get consolation for being bull-ragged for presuming to have an opinion of our own.

Mr. Bruce has a perfect right to his opinion, so we run it in along with all his bunk. He did not differ respectfully with us for having an opinion, but he lugged in a lot of rubbish that speaks for itself. His opinion of the alleged sectionalism of this "narrow sheet" is based upon an egregiously erroneous idea. Sectionalism is dead, and for that reason we have criticised Judge Hughes for attempting to revive it to serve his political ends. We have referred to him as the "apostle of sectionalism," but we have not abused him for having an opinion, although we have several times referred to the fact that his opinions were wrong. The American people agreed with us last Tuesday, so something must have been the matter with the judge's political opinions or with the "methods and manners" that characterized his campaign.

As a matter of fact, The Star is the defender of the faith when it comes to putting sectionalism out of business. The only sectionalism in this entire campaign was introduced by Judge Hughes, but it did not get him anything. He was dragging around a dead corpse, and if we have offended in any particular as to Judge Hughes, it was in deploring his sectional issue and decrying his sectionalism. The files of The Star will show that and it is careless reading that gives Mr. Bruce his license for seeing in our editorial "the time worn method of sectional fanatics to win victories." What a fine bit of rank buncombe that is!

So far as the estimable Mr. Taft is concerned, we expressed our opinion about the manner in which he was jeered and hooted at the munitions factory in Connecticut. The incident shocked us, just as heckling Judge Hughes has done, and as the attempted assault on President Wilson has done to a greater degree. We simply used the munitions factory incident to point a moral that this Nation had better take to heart, else more of its eminent citizens will get jeered, hooted, heckled and assaulted. We were pointing out the danger of the "methods and manners" employed during this campaign. We don't care whether the men are Roosevelt, or Hughes, or Taft, or Wilson, the point we make and intend to emphasize is the fact that men of such eminence should be too dignified to become spell-binders and certainly too statesmanlike to go on the stump and indulge in personal references and abuse, such as Mr. Bruce knows has been indulged in by Judge Hughes, Colonel Roosevelt and Mr. Taft. President Wilson's offending has been some dignified campaigning, but to the honor of the Nation he never once made a personal reference to his eminent opponents.

We protest when Colonel Roosevelt declares that President Taft was the "receiver of stolen goods" and "betrayed the people" and that his backers were "crooks," "thieves," "liars," etc. We protest when Judge Hughes, Roosevelt and Taft go on the stump to deounce President Wilson and to undermine the confidence of the people in the President of the United States of America. We have great respect for the presidency of the United States, and we want to honor the men, whether Republicans or Democrats, who have occupied the great office once filled by George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Grover Cleveland and William McKinley. We want to honor Roosevelt, Hughes and Taft if they will let us, but they won't get much honor for themselves or for President Wilson if they mix in with the crowd and talk like East Side politicians o. primary campaigners in South Carolina or any other bailiwick. Turning their guns on the President of the United States is not a very pretty spectacle for the hecklers, hooters and rough necks who may attend any political meeting. Why say that because rowdies heckle Judge Hughes or hoot and jeer ex-President Taft that it makes Republican votes? Why say that because a crank or an anrchist jumped on the running board of President Wilson's car it would make Democratic votes? Intelligent people know that the Democratic party is no more responsible for the disrespect to Taft than the Republican party is responsible for the attempt to reach President Wilson in his automobile while he was receiving the plaudits of the people.

Instead of abusing The Star for having a serious opinion, while claiming the right himself to criticise us, had not Mr. Bruce best turn his guns on those who have not hesitated to malign and misrepresent the President of the American Republic? There is not a single sectional question at issue between the North or the South or the West, hence there is no sectionalism. What little bit was started by Judge Hughes was snowed under last Tuesday. We are glad of it, but being glad that sectionalism has been dead a long time and that it was snowed under last Tuesday is not sectionalism. If so, we are glad our Democracy is "tainted."

Indeed, Mr. Bruce tells us that "sectionalism is dead." That is precisely what we have said hundreds of times during this campaign, for the reason that Judge Hughes attempted to revive it in order to promote his campaign. If "sectionalism is dead," why does not Mr. Bruce condemn Judge Hughes instead of fancying that it is The Star that has preached sectionalism? Mr. Bruce can't find a line of that kind in The Star, but he can find columns deploring the fact that Judge Hughes resurrected sectional prejudice that we said only a few days ago is as dead as Hector. When we denounce sectionalism every chance we get, here comes a man who berates us for sectionalism. That shows how carelessly he reads—just as carelessly as he read "Methods and Manners, Hoots and Jeers."

We welcome criticism by people. It gives us a chance to show that we have an opinion, that we are ready to assert it, and that we do not deny others the right to have an opinion, as has been the case with Mr. Bruce in denying us the right to express an opinion about the munitions factory incident. It is a newspaper's prerogative to discuss men and measures and it is a joke to suppose that this shop worries over the intolerance of wiseacres and bigots.

"LAWYER OF THE OLD SCHOOL."

A memorial volume has just been published by Rev. Marion Timothy Plyler, the scholarly pastor of Grace Methodist church in Wilmington, which will be read with interest by every son and daughter of the South, who cherishes the sacred principles of integrity and honor which have come down to them as the most cherished heritage from the past. This little volume of 150 pages is a biography of the late Leroy Lee Smith, Esq., of Gatesville, for many years one of the prominent lawyers of Eastern North Carolina.

One of the daughters of Mr. Smith, who is aptly described in the volume as a "lawyer of the old school," is Mrs. Plyler, wife of the Wilmington minister, and the author through an intimate acquaintance of many years has been able to write an appreciative biography which, aside from putting into permanent form a record of "the delicate feelings, the fine sentiments and lofty purposes cherished; the professional fidelity, political sincerity and religious devotion displayed, and the loyalty to the ancient order and the affection for home and the love of unsullied soul, which was so characteristic of this modest man" has also made a contribution to history that will be a great aid to those interested in recording in correct perspective the changing life of our grand old State.

As a historical background for the biography, Mr. Plyler has written a chapter in the volume of "The Albemarle Country," which played such a prominent part in the life of North Carolina in the early days. Born on February 8, 1947, on a farm near Gatesville, LeRoy Lee Smith, through a life that lacked but two years of spanning the Biblical span of three-score years and ten, did much to perpetuate the noble tradition of that splendid section. He was a member of a prominent Virginia family, which had settled in North Carolina and had from the first occupied a high place in the social and political life of the community.

Following the War Between the States, he entered Randolph-Macon college from which he graduated and after studying law returned to his home to take his part in rebuilding the fortunes of a section which had been torn to pieces by a destructive war. Keenly interested at all times in the political and social life of his State, the young lawyer rapidly forged to the front as an influential citizen of the commonwealth. His keen and alert mind kept step with the march of progress and in the Baltimore Democratic Convention, of 1912, to which he was a delegate, he was one of those who stood staunchly by Woodrow Wilson until he was nominated.

Mr. Plyler, in the forceful and clear style that characterizes all his writings, describes the great interest that this noble man always had in education and the high ideals that characterized his professional work. Included in the volume also is an appreciative sketch by Hon. W. D. Pruden, of Edenton.

The volume has just come from the presses of the Edwards & Broughton Printing Company and while intended primarily for members of the family and for personal and professional friends, is worthy of a much wider audience because of its able presentation of the guiding principles that governed the life of a man, who while living was an inspiration always to nobler things and though dead yet continues to execise a gracious influence. As so well said by Mr. Plyler in the preface to the volume, the recording of the virtues of such men will always be appreciated so long as men put a premium on integrity of life and strive to face the future unafraid.

CURRENT COMMENT.

From present conditions it would seem conservative to put the money value of the cotton crop to the farmer at $1,250,000,000, whereas the wheat crop is not likely to return more than $1,000,000,000 to the grain growers. This is on the basis of about $15 an acre for wheat and $35 an acre for cotton.—Commerce and Finance.

"Simon Bamberger, who apparently has been elected governor of Utah on the Democratic ticket, is probably the richest man in our state," said Preston R. Lang, of Salt Lake City, at the Shoreham. "Mr. Bamberger came to this country from Germany a poor and friendless boy, but by dauntless energy and an ambition that never yielded to reverses, he worked his way to the front, and for many years has been recognized as one of the leading financiers of the West. Two years ago, when Senator Reed Smoot was a candidate for re-election, the friends of Mr. Bamberger wanted him to run, but he gave way to another. Senator Smoot narrowly escaped defeat, and it is still believed by our political experts that if he and Bamberger had been pitted against each other Smoot would have lost. The governor-elect is greatly liked by men of all parties, and will make a splendid executive."—Washington Post.

The victory of the Mecklenburg Democracy has been the subject of State-wide comment—and small wonder. The majority piled up by this county was 8,300 and this in face of the loss of 1,000 votes by Democrats who failed to qualify by paying poll tax within the time set by law. The character of the Mecklenburg results indicated a thorough county organization. The fact is that the organization in Mecklenburg was never more efficiently equipped for the campaign than it was in this week's election, and it is only proper that the credit for this be given to the activities of the county chairman, Mr. Hamilton C. Jones. That name has figured conspicuously in the political history of Mecklenburg since the Civil War. The present chairman of the Mecklenburg committee seems to have inherited some of the political talents with which he is endowed, principal among which are courage and determination, and to his excellent management of the campaign from start to finish is due a large share of the splendid results that are making Mecklenburg the talk of the State.—Charlotte Observer.

REV. R. W. HOGUE'S POSITION

Dr. Milton States the Real Issues in Controversy in Baltimore.

To the Editor of The Star:

In the interest of a right understanding of the position of the church, of which both the Rev. Mr. Hogue and myself are ordained ministers, and for the reassurance of his many devoted friends in Wilmington, I beg leave to submit the following statement of the real issues in the controversy which has occupied considerable space in the Baltimore press for the last week or so.

Let me say in the very beginning of my explanation, that Mr. Hogue's standing in this church has never for a moment been in question by the authorities of the church herself. On the contrary, he is now, as he has been since relinquishing his parish last Easter, one of the honored clergy of this church, listed, as are all those who are not laboring in the established parishes or organized missions of the church, as one of the "non-parochial clergy." Among this number are army and navy chaplains, professors and presidents of church colleges and seminaries, secretaries and presidents of church boards and commissions—in fine, all who are not engaged as rectors or missionaries in charge of parishes or missions.

The Church of the Revelation, as the congregation which claims him as its minister designates itself, never having formally applied to the Diocesan Council for admission as a parish or mission, has under the law of the church no representation in the Diocesan Council, and could not have until it made such formal application as the canons require, and by vote of the Diocesan Council had been regularly admitted. Such failure, however, does not affect Mr. Hogue's ministerial standing in the least, except in so far as it deprives him of a vote in Council, as it would deprive any other clergyman in the church under like circumstances. It in no sense attaches any stigma upon his name or calling or recognition in the church at large.

The distinct work in which Mr. Hogue is engaged, and for which he voluntarily gave up his parish in Baltimore last Easter, is in the line of what is known in this church as "Social Service," a well-recognized field of labor since the General Convention, in Cincinnati, six years ago. Hundreds of her clergy are engaged in such work in connection with their regular parish work, or, where the interests are so burdensome as to demand their whole time, as non-parochial clergy. The general church has its Social Service Commission, as has also every diocese, and a growing number of parishes. The work includes prison reform, social welfare, open forums, child labor betterment, and indeed almost every sort of enterprise looking to improved social and industrial conditions. And so far from condemning such enterprise, the church regularly provides for their most efficient organization, and through its commission has a general secretary whose whole time is consumed in planning and directing the labors of diocesan and parochial commissions.

Without knowing anything about the personal relations between the Rev. Mr. Hogue and his bishop, the Bishop of Maryland, I can easily see that grave injustice may have been done the latter—when he is represented as disqualifying Mr. Hogue because of his connection with the special work to which he has given himself—through popular ignorance of the laws and usages of the Episcopal church. The fact is that it is utterly beyond the powers of any bishop, either to disqualify a clergyman in good standing or to give him representation in any body of the church other than the laws of such body provide. The further fact is that Mr. Hogue began his present community work with the sanction of his bishop, and it may be of interest to know that he was appointed on the Social Service Commission of the Diocese of Maryland at the recent meeting of the council; though he had no vote in the convention by virtue of the fact that the congregation that claims him as their special minister has not been admitted as a regular parish.

One more word, and I am through. One utterly fails to understand the mind of the Episcopal church today, if he does not recognize the unparalleled interest which that church is taking in every interest looking to the improvement of social conditions under which every class is living. She has declared her interest by making her Social Service Commission of equal importance with that on Religious Education and with her Missionary Board. Her interest is further, and even more strikingly, manifested by the growing number of her clergy who are identifying themselves, without protest from the great body of the church, with the most radical of the modern social movements. At least two of her bishops, with quite a body of her clergy, are avowed Socialists. And while these men cannot be said by any means to represent the corporate mind of the church, it is a significant fact that they always receive her respectful attention, and pursue the work and hold the views, which with them are earnest convictions, without let or hindrance, or even harsh criticism from the representative councils of the church.

In an attitude of "watchful waiting," her face is toward the light, while with busy feet and hands she is groping along the paths of service, only seeking to "know what things she ought to do," and praying that she may have "grace and power faithfully to perform the same," whenever and wherever opportunity is given her.

WM. H. MILTON.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Nothing can ever disturb the demand for this car.
Not for a month, not for a week, not for a single day.

Having only one car to build, Dodge Brothers have been able to build it better and better.
But in the sense of radical changes, it is the same car today it was when they designed it.
And still the demand goes on growing greater and greater.
No outside conditions, no conditions inside the industry, seem to slow it up a particle.
The people want the car more intensely at this moment than they ever wanted it before.
This is in the face of the fact that production is at the highest peak it has ever reached.
And in the face of the further fact that the sales 22 months and a half have been more than seventy-eight million dollars.
You can find out why this is so from what people are saying about the car all around you.
For months and months they talked particularly of its performance.
Now, you will hear even greater emphasis laid on its economy.
You will hear that with thousands of cars in use, Dodge Brothers dealers have practically no use for repair parts.
That rumor is true. Accidents are the chief source of demand for Dodge Brothers repair parts.
You will hear that the cost of maintenance is practically nil.
This, too, is true in thousands of cases.
You will hear that the car consumes an unusually small amount of gasoline and oil.
This is literally true—of every Dodge Brothers car, under all conditions.
You will hear that it is very difficult to find Dodge Brothers cars for sale at second-hand anywhere.
You will also hear that the second-hand price is only a little lower than the first price.
Both of these things are true—not in one city, nor one state, but all over the Union.
You do not hear people talking about the price of the car.
But you do hear them talking everywhere about the kind of a car it is.
In short, wherever you find a Dodge Brothers car, you will find it surrounded by friends.
You will find it running from morning to night, in an atmosphere of good will.
No ill will anywhere, good will everywhere—good will that grows out of its good work.
No one knows the value of this good will any better than Dodge Brothers know it.
No one counts more on it, nor works harder to deserve it.
This is your guarantee when you buy one of Dodge Brothers cars—the great good will that all the owners feel toward it and the high value which Dodge Brothers place on that good will.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car

The gasoline consumption is unusually low
The tire mileage is unusually high.

The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $785 (f. o. b. Detroit)

The price of the Winter-Touring Car or Roadster, complete, including regular mohair top, is $950 (f. o. b. Detroit.)

CITY'S BIGGEST PARADE HONORS NATION'S CHIEF

Wilmington Celebrated Glorious Victory With Great Torchlight Procession.

MANY THOUSANDS IN LINE

Magnificent Demonstration Features Closing Event of the Campaign Here.

Not until 7,000 throats had been stricken next to dumb by three hours of yelling and cheering, not until 7,000 men, women and children shouting, stamping and gesticulating, had worn themselves almost to the point of exhaustion, not until the bearings of practically every automobile in the city were threatening to melt from heat, did the mamoth torchlight parade in celebration of the re-election of Woodrow Wilson come to an end last night.

Never in the history of staid old Wilmington has such a crowd of joy crazed citizens gone on such a rampage as shook the old town last night from Water street to Delgado and from Greenfield Lake to the Smith creek railroad yards. It was the marshalling of the people to celebrate a victory of the people, and all classes, rich and poor, old and young, men, women, children, babies and dogs took part.

Cheer Beloved Crieftain.

Old men and women, now facing the sunset of their lives, vied with tots just learning to talk, in hailing the beloved chieftain of the American people. Brilliant torches, sky rockets and fusees blazed in the darkness as the triumphant procession wound its way through the streets of the city.

For three hours the blare of brass bands proclaiming the birth of a new freedom ,of a new peace and of a new prosperity, filled the air with stirring music. Cheer after cheer for Woodrow Wilson, "the greatest American since George Washington," rocked the foundations of every structure in the city. Cow bells, tin horns, pans, cans, automobile horns, and every other kind of instrument that could possibly make a noise, added to the joyous din.

Even dogs, draped in the Stars and Stripes, and decorated with pictures of Wilson and Marshall, danced delightedly along and barked joyously as the mighty caravan swung through the streets . And take, it from Xanthippe, it was some parade, too. It took 36 mintues from the time Chief Marshal Thomas E. Cooper passed on a spirited steed until the last gaily decorated automobile passed in review.

Bonfires Light the Way.

Moving from the city hall at 8 o'clock the parade swept up Third street to Red Cross, thence down Front to Castle, then to Fifth, down Fifth to Market and doubling back Market to Dock, and then into Third again and back to the starting point.

Blazing bonfires lighted the way and thousands lined the streets waiting for the great parade to pass. First came the marshals, followed by Mr. S. A. Matthews in the role of Uncle Sam, and wearing the whole regalia of that famous character, and leading by the halter the equally famous Democratic Donkey, draped with Stars and Stripes and pictures of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall, and escorted by Mr. W. W. Wood, dressed as a rustic citizen from Mud Creek, carrying a satchel with the inscription, "The Rural Credits Law Has Helped Me." Next in line, led by three men in the apparel of clowns, came "Charles E. Hughes' Goat," and he really seemed to realize that he was playing the part of the defeated candidate, or else he is the greatest animal actor in North Carolina, for he was easily the most dissatisfied being in the parade. The man who held his halter wore a self satisfied look, and well he might, for he was made up to represent the American farmer, and carried in his hand a small suit case filled with cotton marked 22 cents.

Now came the two floats that brought a mighty cheer from the spectators that thronged the side walks, "The Sunny South" and "The Golden West," the first featuring 20 cent cotton, and the latter bearing "$1.75 wheat." The latter float was originated by Messrs. Bill Leftwich, Tom E. McCraw, Ben Dunham, Jr., Thomas R. Rowan, and Leonidas R. LeGwin.

Then came the drum corps beating a loud tattoo while close behind was an immense banner bearing the inscription, "Wilmington for Woodrow Wilson." The Fifth Ward Democrats, headed by a banner, "Fifth Ward for Wilson," were next in line, followed by a hundred Boy Scouts with flags and banners. The New Hanover Concert Band came next playing stirring airs. Two thousand men and boys with torches, banners, horns and bells followed in line behind the band and then came a hundred men or horseback, muleback and donkey back. Mr. J. Tillman Howard's daughter, Miss Thelma, riding in an improvised carriage drawn by 25 bright carriers from The Star office and attended by her father was a prominent feature of the procession.

Big Automobile Parade.

Mr. W. A. McGirt, president of the local Wilson Club, and the other officers of the organization headed the procession of two hundred automobiles gaily and appropriately decorated with flags and bunting.

The ladies were prominent in the automobile procession while thousands of others lined the way. Chief Marshal Thos. E. Cooper was ably assisted in keeping the parade in order by Messrs. John R. Murchison, John Lewis Williams, Oscar W. Peck, Owen Holmes, C. W. Mills, Thos. R. Ames, Jos. W. Yates, J. R. Kennedy and Rembert A. Rogers.

Among the many sparks of wit and truth that were displayed on these placards were: "The Sunny South and The Golden West," "California Turned the Trick," "Three Cheers for Wilson,' "Wilson and Marshall Made a Clean Sweep," "We Claim the Earth—Willcox," "Mr. Hughes, Congratulations Now in Order," "If You Are Ever in a Tight Place See Woodrow," "We Rejoice While Others Mourn, Bang," "Women's Votes Helped," "We Won With Woodrow," "Wilmington and New Hanover Shut 'Em Out."

Hundreds of automobiles filled with cheering men, beautiful maidens, venerable mothers and grand mothers, yeilling children and cooing babies passed in review. Each new car as it

CASE TO GO TO FEDERAL JURY

Big Damage Suit of Warren Against Waccamaw to be Given to Jury Monday—Law Points Involved.

The $10,000 action for damages in which E. J. Warren is the plaintiff and the Waccamaw Lumber Company the defendant, will go to the jury following the argument of counsel on both sides tomorrow morning. The testimony of witnesses for the defendant was all in by noon yesterday, and the greater part of the afternoon session was taken up with the argument of counsel as to the law points involved, and concerning which they desire the court to charge the jury. Their arguments were made to Judge H. G. Connor after the jury had been excused.

According to the testimony of witnesses in the case, E. J. Warren, the plaintiff, and an employe of the company, was struck by a train operated by the defendant company while in the act of passing over a crossing. The accident took place at Bolton, about 50 feet from the machine shops of the company at a crossing used by the employes at the noon hour when going home from the work for lunch. According to the testimony of some of the witnesses, the view of the defendant of the tracks was obstructed more or less by a coal bin and several coal cars. It was also testified that no warning blast was blown by the engineer of the train which struck the plaintiff.

Robert Ruark, Esq., of counsel for the plaintiff, argued exhaustively that the plaintiff could have seen the engine and was guilty of contributory negligence in not exercising the precautions of a reasonably prudent man. He argued that the plaintiff should have stopped and looked to see if the track was clear at the moment of entering upon it.

Judge George Rountree, for the plaintiff, argued that the engineer should not have approached the crossing during the noon lunch hour when employes were passing to and fro, without a loud warning blast of the locomotive's whistle. He contended that if the plaintiff looked, he did not see or he would never have gone onto the track. He also argued as a matter of law, that no matter whether the jury believed the witnesses for the plaintiff or the defense, Warren was not guilty of contributory negligence.

Thos. W. Davis, Esq., also for the plaintiff, argued that the defendant company owed the plaintiff the duty of providing him with a safe place to work, and as it was the employe's duty to use the crossing in going to and returning from his home on the premises of the defendant, the train should not have been operated during the lunch hour. The court, however, stated that it was the duty of the plaintiff to use due care in crossing the track. Mr. Davis argued that it was negligence per se for the company to run an engine across the track at the crossing at the lunch hour.

The firm of Rountree, Carr & Davis, of this city, Donald McRackan, Esq., and Jackson Greer, Esq., of Whiteville, appear for the plaintiff, while Robert Ruark, Esq., and W. B. Campbell, Esq., appear for the company.

10-DAY REVIVAL OPENS HERE THIS AFTERNOON

At First Baptist Church With Sermon by Dr. Hurt.

Mr. Walter Rodgers, Who Arrived Last Night, Will Lead Chorus of 50 Voices—Special Platform Built for Singers.

Rev. Dr. John Jeter Hurt will preach the opening sermon of the revival campaign, which will be conducted in this city for the next ten days, this afternoon at the First Baptist church at 3:30 o'clock. His second address will be delivered this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A special programme of music will be rendered by a chorus of 50 voices under the leadership of Mr. Walter E. Rodgers, of Atlanta, who arrived here last night from Portsmouth, Va., where he has just taken part in a successful revival campaign. The afternoon meeting marks the opening of the revival, and it is expected that there will be a large congregation in attendance.

Mr. Rodgers, musical director for the revival services, conducted the first rehearsal of the chorus last night at the church. Eventually it is proposed to organize a junior choir to be composed of children between the ages of 10 and 14 years. Definite announcement of just when this choir will be organized will be made later, at which time all who can sing and have a good voice will be urged to join.

A large platform has been built around the pulpit in the church and will furnish ample seating room for the large chorus. Mr. Rodgers has been making a specialty of evangelistic music for the past five years, and is now a member of the force of singers employed by the Evangelistic department of the Southern Baptist Convention. He is not only a gifted leader of song, but a tactful personal worker as well. While in the city he will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Hurt.

The meeting which begins today will be held twice each day for ten days or two weeks. In the afternoons they will be held at 3:30 o'clock and in the evenings the song service will begin at 7:30 o'clock. During the past week neighborhood prayer meetings have been held in different parts of the city, and these have had good attendance and good interest.

Dr. Hurt, pastor of the church, says he believes that his people are ready for just such a meeting as begins today and he looks confidently for good results. Members of the community are invited to attend any or all services.

THE CHURCH'S PART IN WORK OF EDUCATION

Will be Theme of Addresses in Episcopal Churches Today.

Rev. Dr. Walter Mitchell and Rev. Francis M. Osborne Will Speak in Interest of Endowment Fund for St. Mary's.

"The Church's Responsibility to Education," is the theme which will be presented in all of the Episcopal churches of Wilmington today by the Rev. Francis M. Osborne, special representative of the trustees of St. Mary's school, Raleigh, N. C., and Rev. Walter Mitchell, D. D., rector of Porter's Military Academy, Charleston, S. C.

The Episcopal church in the United States through the appointment of a standing commission on Religious Education has in late years laid new emphasis on this feature of church work and influence and the work of this church in the educational field is entering upon a new phase. Contemporaneously and as a result of the same inuuences the Episcopal church in the South is now pressing the claims of its institutions upon the people and the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and St. Mary's are engaged in progressive plans. The underlying principles of this development will be presented today by Dr. Mitchell and Mr. Osborne.

This morning Dr. Mitchell will speak at St. James' church and Mr. Osborne at St. John's. This evening at the regular services, Dr. Mitchell will speak at the Church of the Good Shepherd and Mr. Osborne at St. Paul's.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the St. James' Parish house, there will be a general meeting and conference with reference to St. Mary's school. Mr. Geo. C. Royall, of Goldsboro, who is one of the trustees of St. Mary's school, elected by the Diocese of East Carolina, will be present at this meeting. Mr. Royall is also a member of a special committee appointed by the board of trustees of St. Mary's to forward the proposed fund and he is anxious to see Wilmington and the constituency which he represents in East Carolina take an active part in the campaign for the school.

The movement involves the raising of a $250,000 fund for the improvement and enlargement of the institution which is already one of the oldest and best boarding schools for girls owned by the Episcopal church in the United States.

NEW CHURCH IS COMPLETED

Methodists of Winter Park Have Handsome Place of Worship—First Service Held Sunday.

The handsome new Methodist church at Winter Park, which has been named the Winter Park Wesley Memorial church, has been completed and was used for the first time on last Sunday when the pastor, Rev. J. H. Miller, preached a very appropriate sermon for the occasion. There was a large congregation present at the opening service. A pleasing feature was the splendid musical programme. Miss Anderson, secretary of the Wilmington Y. W. C. A., sang a beautiful solo and Mrs. S. O. Ellis sang "Saved by Grace."

The Methodists of Winter Park formally organized a church on December 30th of last year with about ten members. The membership has constantly increased so that they now have about 65 members, two having joined last Sunday.

The new church is located just one block from the trolley station at Winter Park Gardens on a lot 100x160 feet in size. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall gave nearly one-half of the lot on which the church is located in memory of their mother.

The building cost $4,200. It is of Spanish colonial design, and is finished in mission in the interior. The Ladies' Aid Society bought the carpet and piano. Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Prince donated the heater; Mrs. J. T. Sholar the sterling silver collection plates; Mr. and Mrs. William Lockamy gave an individual communion set of sterling silver; Rev. J. H. Miller gave a nice pulpit Bible; the members of the Presbyterian church donated a sterling silver flower vase, and Mrs. Edward Schulken's Sunday school class a hymnal for use in the pulpit.

Rt. Rev. Leo Haid, O. S. B. D. D., of Belmont, arrived in Wilmington last night and during his stay, will be the guest of the Very Rev. C. Dennen, rector of St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral.

Today at 9:30 A. M. the Bishop, accompanied by Rev. Thomas, O. S. B. director of Belmont College, and Rev. P. G. Marion, of Hendersonville, N. C., Rev. P. F. Marion, of Asheville, Rev. Geo. St. Mary's choir, under the direction of Mr. James Owen Reilly, will render the music for the occasion.

Through the efforts of Hugh MacRae & Company, this colony was settled about six years ago, and consists entirely of Poles. They are industrious, hard working people, and are making good settlers. More colonies like this one will make North Carolina the Garden Spot of the World.

This evening at 8 o'clock Rev. Bishop Haid will preach in St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral. The Bishop wil remain over to assist in the Jubilee celebration of the Very Rev. C. Dennen, who has been rector of the parish for over 25 years.

A committee of which Mr. James Owen Reilly is chairman, is making arrangements for an elaborate musical programme for the celebration.

FIRE CREATES EXCITEMENT

Brooklyn Negroes Terrorized for a While.

Fire originating from a chimney spark destroyed the roof and kitchen from the roof of a house at 1006 North Eighth street, occupied by Marianna Sloan, colored, Friday afternoon, and in addition set the house next door on fire and scattered fear and fright through the negroes of the immediate neighborhood.

The entire block was endangered for some time owing to the flimsy construction of the greater part of the buildings in that vicinity. Great crowds were attracted and for a while it looked as if there was going to be a real fire. The firemen were able to get the flames under control without any great difficulty, however.

PAYS FREAK DEBT.

Republican Rolls Democrats Along Front Street in a Wheelbarrow.

With an anticipating crowd lining either side of the street and with drums beating and bugles blowing, Mr. Richard Lincoln, connected with the Oklahoma Land car no wside tracked at the union station, at noon yesterday paid the penalty of backing Chrles E. Hughes in the recent election by rolling several of his comrades down Front street in a wheelbarrow, from the union station to the Orton Hotel.

Mr. Lincoln, who is the only Republican on the car, scorned the idea of backing his candidate with mere coin, and suggested the novel bet that he paid yesterday. However, he accepted his defeat in good spirit and cheerfully bowled the victorious Democrats along before the admiring crowds.

BIRD SHOOTING SEASON

Local Huntsmen Are Eagerly Awaiting Opening of Season in This County on November 15th.

Local huntsmen are eagerly awaiting the opening of the bird season in New Hanover county on November 15th, and with the delightful weather which has characterized the entire fall continuing they are likely to enjoy a great many days of fine sport before the end of the month. In the days that are to elapse between now and the 15th of the month, dogs and guns will be gotten ready and everything is propitious for the most successful season since the enactment of the game law.

Practically everyone that comes in from the rural sections of the adjoining counties is authority for the statement that birds are more plentiful than ever, thanks to the efficient protection accorded them by the law, and that fields and meadows are thickly populated with the little feathered creatures already tempting the shotgun of the impatient sportsman.

Great interest is felt in this part of the State in the hunting of deer, the season for which opened in Brunswick county on September 1st. Deer are yet to be found in this county in large numbers, as well as in other coastal counties which provide not only excellent feeding grounds for these magnificent game animals, but with their swamps and island hammocks afford them excellent cover.

Wild turkeys are usually found where there are deer, both requiring not only adequate food supply, but plenty of cover, and they are most plentiful where nature best protects them from their chief enemy—man.

The open season for doves and squirrels also opens in this county on the 15th. In Columbus and Cumberland counties the bird shooting season began on November 1st, as it did also in Brunswick county.

In writing of the quickness of the quail to acquaint himself with the dangers which threaten him from the Nimrod's gun and his shrewdness in concealing himself, State Game Commissioner C. S. Arnow, of Georgia, says:

"On November 15th the quail or Bob White 'sits up and takes notice,' for he soon realizes that he is shorn of the protection afforded him by the law, since March 1 preceding, and, after the crack of the first gun, he learns to be constantly on the alert. While he is frequently found in open places, where he seeks food, he soon discovers, if he escapes being killed on the first 'rise,' that he must use good judgment in the selection of the proper place to alight, so that dog and hunter may be thrown off the scent and he may enjoy comparative security for the rest of the day. It is this shrewdness in taking care of himself quickly developed by the bird that gives all the more zest and excitement to his pursuit by the sportsman."

Craven Man Killed By Big Black Bear

DURAND MORTON, AGED HUNTER, DONE TO DEATH WHEN HE WENT TO RESCUE OF HIS DOGS ATTACKED BY WILD BEAST.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 11.—Durand Morton, an aged hunter of the Havelock section, near the city of New Bern, was killed Wednesday of this week by a huge black bear, according to a report brought here by Col. W. T. Dortch, who has a hunting lodge near the scene of the tragedy. Mr. Morton was killed when he went to the aid of his dogs who were being worsted in a fight with the bear, two of them also being killed.

Farmers visiting in this city today from Green county state that N. A. Ham, a farmer of that county, was in a serious condition, a result of being assaulted and badly carved with a knife Tuesday of this week, following which he was robbed of $125. Three white men, Dubell Langston, Ernest Johnson and Joe Parrott, all of Green county, were arrested in this city Wednesday by local officers, upon the advice of the sheriff of Green county, the men being charged with being implicated in the assault.

ARRESTED AT HOSPITAL.

Avant McKoy Finds Troubles Never Come Singly.

Avant McKoy received several painful knife slashes last night shortly after 10 o'clock during an altercation with another negro who has not been apprehended. McKoy was arrested at the James Walker Memorial Hospital where he went to have his wounds dressed, on a charge of assaulting Bertha Grady, also colored. It is alleged that the other negro cut McKoy because of the latter's assault on the Grady woman. His injuries are not considered serious.

Diabetes Treated Successfully

Medical science admits of no definite cure for Diabetes, despite the many years of experimenting and research by foremost physicians the world over. However, this popular theory might be called fallacious if one were to judge from the following unsolicited testimonial from a grateful user of Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy.

"I had been troubled with Diabetes for 8 years. I heard about Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and I tried some of it and got myself in good condition and went to work again. One man said he doctored for 2 years and that one bottle of Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy did him more good than all the doctors. I am much pleased and so thankful for your life saving remedy that I cheerfully recommend it to anyone troubled with Diabetes and I hope this will be the cause of helping many sufferers." He engaged in the newspaper business for a dozen years, but retired several years ago.

CITY'S BIGGEST PARADE HONORS NATION'S CHIEF

Police Patrol in Line.

The police patrol for once in its history, rolled through the streets, without making some poor mortal shiver with apprehension, for last night with loudly clanging bell and shrieking siren it joined in the triumphal pageant, while the gallant officers who filled it from throttle stern waved flags and torches, and yellow at the top of their lungs for Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall. The officers were loudly cheered.

The firemen ,too, were there to show that they shared in the general joy that was sweeping the city, and the fire laddies were greeted with cheers as their hose wagon rolled into view along with the other gaily bedecked vehicles.

A clanging engine bell pealed the joyous notes of victory as it swung from the front of a big touring car. Woodrow Wilson smiled his thanks from practically every car in town, and from many banners. From the backs of children, and even peered from amid flags on the bodies of joyous dogs.

It was Woodrow Wilson night. Not even the most ardent Hughes man in the city could dispute that. Never before has a statesman, no matter how popular or great, received such a tribute as Wilmington gave the nation's chief executive last night. It was a joy unconfined to any special class or creed, and one which was joined in by men of every class, creed and station.

They Would Not Stop.

Once started there was no stopping that celebration. Back to the starting point, the men positively refused to be disbanded. Up first one street and down the other waltzed the joyous crowd that was out to show the world how humanity rejoices when it has earned a great victory.

If there was any intention of having any speech making at the conclusion of the parade, it was speedily dispensed with. The parade once started refused to end until the participants had nearly fallen from exhaustion, and no man in the world, Wilson not excepted, could have made that crowd quiet enough for a speech, not at least without extreme difficulty.

Weather Just Right.

The weather conditions that greeted the joyous event were ideal. Clouds that hung low in the autumnal sky, filled the air with just the haze that goes to make a perfect setting. The cool temperature was perfect for outdoors, while a big moon looked with smiling countenance on the pranks joy crazed mortals.

Gradually the crowds began to disperse but there was still some joy making going on at midnight. When the last strokes of the city clock chimed the beginning of a new day, from far off down the street came the dying notes of the yells and songs of Democracy's hosts, as they lifted their voices in a good night anthem to the Nation's pride, Woodrow Wilson.

As a fitting climax to the joyful occasion comes the following little poem written by one of Wilmington's budding belles, Miss Nell Green, of 302 North Second street. It may not be perfect, the metre might be improved on if either Mr. Kipling or Mr. Longfellow could criticise it. Nevertheless, it is a gem for the timeliness of its thought, and is a credit to one of the author's years, and above all it speaks the sentiment of the great masses of the Nation's people:

"Since Wilson's been elected
Our hearts are full of joy.
We now can rest our minds,
And sleep without alloy.

Of course, we are sorry for Hughes,
But guess he can stand defeat,
If the Republican words are true,
We're sure he can't be beat.

Peace, Peace is our country's watchword.
As long as Wilson reigns,
Our country shall echo with music,
From the Star Spangled Banner's strains.

Prosperity shall rule our land,
And love and good will abound,
From Florida's summer climate,
To the North with snow on the ground.

The United States will be happy,
Wealth shall come to the crowd,
And all her daughters and sons,
Shall of Old Glory be proud.

When you, sometime in the future,
Listen to Dixie's strains,
Remember that up in the White House,
OUR President still reigns."

Lured From Florida Desert Labor Agents at Salisbury.

Salisbury, N. C., Nov. 11.—More than 200 negroes, who arrived here today in charge of labor agents on a special train from Jacksonville, Fla., and said to be on their way to Pennsylvania to work on railroads, deserted when they found their train was being tranferred to the Yadkin railroad, to be taken to Badin, where a large aluminum plant is under construction. The negroes left the train in a body and are now awaiting some means to return home or proceed North. Many of them are without funds.

ROMANCE OF OIL CAN IN CHINA

The following from the Victoria (B. C.) Times of November 2nd, will be read with interest by many friends of Mr. John W. Bolles, in this city:

"A great development in the trade relations between the Far East, particularly China, and this coast is anticipated by J. W. Bolles, a well known business man of Hongkong, who is in the city waiting for the departure of the Empress of Asia. He has been on a business trip in the United States, and as he is now contemplating retirement he now goes back to wind up his affairs.

"Of the International Corporation whose principals passed through Victoria this summer en route to commence railway construction in different provinces of China and whose concessions recently have been referred to as the subject of diplomatic negotiation, he says they have behind them unlimited capital, and if political considerations do not intervene to check their programme, Americans will play a large part in the future development of China. Knowing some of the executive officers of the association, he called upon them while in New York and heard particulars of the magnitude of the undertaking.

"Mr. Bolles's business connections in the Orient have largely been with the oil industry. To that business he makes some interesting references, as showing how a vast country may become entirely dependent on an article imported from elsewhere. 'The oil can goes,' he says, 'where the explorer and the missionary never visit. Special receptacles are made for loading on mules to push through the upland trails in the western provinces, and in fact the substance is conveyed throughout the country every possible method of transport. Most of the oil is transported from this side in bulk in tank steamers, and on arrival pumped up into the storage tanks at the wharves, being there placed in tins and drums for distribution. The American illuminating oils have almost entirely displaced the native products in China. These attempts by the Chinese to obtain oil from pressed seeds have been very crude and the amount of light given is small, so that when we went into the field and put on the market not only a good product, but a suitable lamp in which to consume it, the demand for our products became very great. It is surprising to find up in the interior of China to what remarkable uses the empty cans are put, though most often they appear as water buckets.'

"Mr. Bolles referred to the excellent way in which the financial conditions brought about by the war had been met in Hongkong, and the absence of commercial panic. The men of various nationalities in the colony all offered themselves for defence and police work, and the financial adjustments consequent to the break off of relations with Teutons was accomplished with little difficulty."

ton, sister of the bride, and Miss Ellen Windsor, of Southport, a cousin.

A remarkable feature of the occasion was the presence of the best man and maid of honor of 50 years ago, Mr. J. D. Usher and Miss Mamie King, both still unmarried. "Oh you sleeping Gods of Cupid."

Those assisting in the receiving line were: Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Daniel, Mrs. C. A. Usher, Messrs. William K. Usher, Joe Usher, Otis Boyette, Forest Boyette, Misses Eva Usher, Lena Usher, Bernice McDonald, Eunice Boyette, grand children, while little Miss Juanita Boyette, and Masters Henry B. Usher and G. M. Daniel, Jr., furnished amusement.

After happy felicitations, the guests were shown into the gift room also decorated with white and gold, the color scheme being most delightfully enhanced by the glitter of real golden gems, tributes of thoughtful loving friends, at home and afar. Conspicuous among the gifts was a beautiful cameo pin and a golden pocket knife, presented by a club of admiring friends, an exquisite gold lined tea service, bearing a card to father and mother from their children, a burnished gold cream ladle, from Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Anderson, of Wilmington, to grandpa and grandma, gold coins, gold frosted china too numerous to numerate, a miniature gold clock, wish bone bonbon basket, gold embroidered articles of various kinds, paintings, etc. Last came two gold crosses from a cousin, Dr. William Love, of California, two gold nuggets from Dr. and Mrs. Washburn, of Wilson, all of which attested the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Usher are held.

The guests were next shown into the dining room where a delicious salad course was served, followed by gold and white cream and cakes. The table was artistically draped with festoons of gold ribbon, having the same damask cloth and silver candle holders used 50 years ago. A mirror in the center of the table, half hidden in ferns and chrysanthemums, completed the decorations. Mrs. E. A. Pifer, and Miss Maggie More presided here, assisted by Misses Eunice Boyette Lena and Bernice McDonald and Masters Otis and Forest Boyette.

It was an occasion long to be remembered, and the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Usher hope that they live to celebrate their diamond wedding.

Report of Sub-Committee of Investigation of Tidewater

Regulation of Jitney Bus Competition One of Prime Needs—Other Propositions Are Discussed in the Report.

Questions of far-reaching importance are discussed in the report of the sub-committee of the committee of one hundred, which was appointed to make an investigation with reference to the future policies of the Tidewater Power Company. The propositions discussed in the report are the development of a suburban manufacturing center, the regulation and control of jitney bus competition, the forming of a public-controlled monopoly and the one-man car operation.

The report of the sub-committee is to be passed upon by the entire committee at a meeting to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater, in a statement made Friday afternoon to the members of the sub-committee and several others explained the vital necessity from his standpoint of having a verdict from the people of the city as to their attitude on these propositions, if his company is to continue its present undertakings and to carry out other projects of even greater moment.

It was suggested that the report be published in order that the people of Wilmington as well as all the members of the committee of one hundred might have the opportunity o freading it. The complete report is as follows:

"The sub-committee, appointed from The sub-committee, appointed from your number to investigate and report on the propositions submitted by Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the Tidewater Power Company, at a public meeting called for the purpose of ascertaining the attitude of public sentiment towards the policies of the company, submit their report herewith:

"Mr. MacRae submitted to your full body propositions affecting the possibilities of the Tidewater Power Company ,in its projects of development, in which he stated that the element of public good will was indispensable to the carrying out of these purposes; and specified the following conditions as being comprehended in the matter of public sentiment:

"1—Suburban manufacturing center.

"2—Control of jitney bus competition.

"3—A public-controlled monopoly.

"4—One-man car operation.

"We have made a very thorough investigation of all these subjects; and our conclusions and recommendations are reasoned, and, we believe, sound. For convenience, we will take these subjects up in the order named; and treat them as briefly as consistent with clearness.

Manufacturing Site.

"The manufacturing site proposition is a simple business matter. The Tidewater Power Company has acquired, for the purpose of joint development, as hereinafter described, five hundred acres of land northeast of the city and adjoining the city limits, bounded by the Princess street road, Burnt Mill creek, Smith's creek and a line parallel with Burn Mill creek from the Princess street road to Smith's creek, about one mile square. The New Bern railroad, which is a part of the belt line of the city, runs through this property and the Goldsboro branch passes just to the west, while both Burnt Mill creek and Smith's creek provide water frontage for several miles and adequate transportation from this site to the river, as well as a means for securing water rates on transportation, while the Coast Line freight terminals are in immediate touch, lying not more than half a mile distant. The land is high and naturally drained, and with a slight elevation above the water courses, frontage development will be both inexpensive and advantageous.

"The plan of development is a four-fold investment by the Tidewater Power Company, the city of Wilmington, the county of New Hanover and business interests . The property is to be put in at actual cost, which is seventy thousand dollars, and the estimated cost of improvement is about seventy thousand more, with an outside limit of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars for land and improvements.

"The money is to be raised on the joint obligation of the parties in interest as underwriters; and the installment calls are to extend over a period of ten years, beginning with not more than 25 per cent for the first year and 15 per cent for any succeeding year. The investment feature is secured by the plan of donating factory sites to the extent of one half of the property suitable for this purpose, alternating the locations, so as to reserve for the investors property which must appreciate with the development, and withholding more than half the property to be disposed of as circumstances may determine. The control of the property would be in the hands of trustees representing all the interests.

Jitney Buses.

"We have made an exhaustive investigation of the operation of the jitney bus, and find that many cities, among them Charlotte, Greensboro, Atlanta, Richmond and New Orleans, have ordinances controlling the operation. The ground upon which jitneys are regulated is that of imposing responsibility, and the means employed are privilege tax and indemnity bonds. The tax is to indemnify against accident, varies from one to five thousand dollars per vehicle, the indemnity being made payable to the city and recoverable by suit by the plaintiff.

"The regulation of jitneys proceeds on the idea that competition should be responsible, and that it is unfair to street railway investments to allow irresponsible competition, which is not only without investment, but without liability for public safety. There seems to be no question of the power to regulate jitneys; and the Supreme Court of Louisiana has sustained the regulation by the city of New Orleans imposing a bond of five thousand dollars on each vehicle. We recommend an ordinance, which is hereto attached, and which is very similar to the one adopted by the city of Charlotte.

Controlled Monopoly.

"We approach this subject with entire confidence, but with a full appreciation that it is a new matter and will require open-mindedness for fair consideration. The subject is an evolution, and is an economic achievement of far reaching effect. On the face of it, monopoly is obnoxious, but private monopoly and public-controlled monopoly are very different things. The one is indefensible, because of its inherent selfishness; the other defensible, on the ground of public economy. In essence, it is the mobilization of public patronage under the control of public authority, using a government chartered and controlled private agency to effectuate public efficiency and economy.

"The state of Wisconsin has tried out the plan for about ten years, and in general the terms under which the system is operated are these:

"1—An existing public utility company is placed under the control of the state authority as affects (a) capitalization, (b) equipment, (c) public charges and service.

"2—In return for this surrender of control, the state grants to the company the exclusive right to supply public service to the community.

"3—The local authorities are empowered to suggest extension of service and other matters of public concern.

"4—The company is not legally bound to act favorably upon the suggestions of the local authority, but the local authority has access to state authority to force terms on the company, after due hearing.

"5—When, upon hearing, the state authority finds in favor of the local authority, the company is given the option of complying with the order and providing the enlarged service, or suffering competition through a new company, to which the local authority is empowered to grant a franchise.

"The system in Wisconsin has worked most satisfactorily, and the experience is almost universal that the recommendations of the local authorities have been adopted and competition avoided; and the opinion of the chairman of the railroad commission of Wisconsin, with which body the power of control and regulation is lodged, is that, while private capital has been immune from ruinous competition, the public has secured a larger and a better service. The reason why both these ends are so fully accomplished is found in the fact that, given a situation in which one company is in the field, it is better to concentrate the patronage and increase the efficiency of the service; for it must be clear that to duplicat the plant, without increase of revenue, would be to at once reduce the efficiency of the service and impair the efficacy of revenue by dividing it between competing companies; so that while private investment would languish, the public service would not be bettered. Furthermore, it is not conceivable that the public service should suffer, where all the essential elements of control are under public authority, and with monopoly of income expansion of service is possible without the fear of resistance on the ground of confiscation.

"All public service utilities are in a sense and in a measure monopolistic. This being admitted ,it follows that it is no departure in principle, but only in application, to extend the monopoly, to the end that it may perform efficiently, bearing in mind that what the public authority permits it can control. From the foregoing we, with confidence, recommend the enactment by the Legislature of the bill herewith submitted.

One-Man Car Operation.

"A very exhaustive study of this subject discloses that of 47 cities, widely distributed, and verying in population from 1,500 to 40,000, to whom we wrote for information, 40 have replied, in more or less detail, giving their experience with and expressing favorable opinions of the operation of the one-man car system. All replies received practically agree that the one-man system has these advantages:

"1—The insurance of greater safety, by having the car under control of one man, and under safety devices.

"2—The ability to maintain a more frequent service to sparsely settled districts.

"3—The economy in operation, which makes it possible to extend service to new fields.

"4—The general satisfaction to motormen, by reason of increased compensation, when once the system has become operative.

"The opinion is freely expressed, that under the present conditions of jitney and privately owned automobile competition, the one-man car operation in cities of less than 50,000 population, and in districts thinly settled, is an absolute necessity, to safeguard the revenues of the companies. For further information on this subject we attach hereto the correspondence which we have gathered, and concur in the general opinion that the one-man car within the limits named is entirely feasible. Inasmuch as the one-man car operation was introduced chiefly for the purpose of economy, we assume it would not only be undesirable but impracticable to operate one-man service where congested traffic would make it difficult or slow; and we do not recommend, nor do we understand the company to propose, any service that would entail hardship on the men or menace the public.

General.

"The foregoing conditions entering into the expression of public sentiment, which would assure support to the projected plans of the Tidewater Power Company are precedent to momentous developments by the company, already planned and partly in operation, whose extent is indicated by the following summary:

"The investment of over one million dollars in agricultural holdings and developments in this immediate section. This development is but in its initial stage, and every condition favorable to maximum productiveness—soil, climate, transportation, accessibility to market, here obtains and constitutes an aggregate of advantages practically unlimited in its possibilities.

"The development between Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach, of which the auditorium on Harbor Island and gas extension to suburban districts and Wrightsville Beach, the financing of sewerage and water for Wrightsville Beach, and the lately acquired Oceanic Hotel, are only the beginning.

"The unique feature of a social center on the Beach—a plan of bungalow houses of convenient size and complete equipment, whereby groups of friends from a distance may spend a time at the seaside and enjoy their own home circle, at an expense within the command of those of moderate means.

"The enlargement of Harbor Island and the erection of one or more hotels, with a causeway approach from the mainland.

"A causeway from Masonboro Sound across to Seaforth, with a roadway up the beach as far as feasible.

"A tourist winter hotel in Masonboro Sound (the McKoy place) extensive in size and elaborate in appointments.

"A golf course near Winter Park Gardens, ideal in location and unsurpassed in the rolling character of the land, which will have the distinguishing feature of being open to the public, and which will be about four times as large as the golf grounds of the Country Club.

"The development of small farms in a drainage district of about 2,000 acres, one-half of which is under control of the company, lying south of the trolley line near Winter Park and between improved country roads.

"The suburban residential developments at Audubon and Oleander, which will be made doubly attractive by prescribing the character of buildings and providing easy terms for acquiring homes.

"From time to time the question of a rival public service company has come up, and, in concluding our report, we think it well to direct thought to this subject: Our investigation has disclosed that any possible rival company would only be the duplication of car and light service, and the principle of regulated monopoly applies here with objective force. The entire scheme of to development ontemplated by the Tidewater Power Company depends for its financing upon the public credit of the company, which can be maintained and strengthened only by the loyal support and undivided patronage of the people of the community. With the assurance from the public of such measure of support as would be indicated by the approval of the action of the committee of one hundred on the report now submitted, we are permitted to say that the Tidewater Power Company is prepared to enter into commitments whose results will be expressed in developments aggregating millions of dollars. We will not permit ourselves to believe that the people of Wilmington are without vision. Here, at your very doors, are potentialities of unthought of possibilities, and at hand is the man whose vision has discerned them and whose command of financial confidence is equal to making them realities. To realize such undreamed of results imposes upon this community no sacrifice, no hardship, no denial of right, no impairment of personal interests, and all that is asked is the expression of sympathetic co-operation in carrying out constructive policies which will give to this community something else besides itself to feed upon.

"Respectfully submitted with recommendation of adoption.

WILSON RE-ELECTED BECAUSE HE KEPT US OUT OF THE FIRE

So George Holderness Tells Celebrating Crowd at Tarboro.

(Special Star Telegram).

Tarboro, N. C., Nov. 11.—Total vote in Edgecombe county: for Wilson 2,208; Hughes 135; Bickett 2,018; Linney 134; Socialist vote 24. Last night about 2,000 of the citizens and many hundreds of ladies celebrated the re-election of President Wilson. There was a parade up Main street to the Common where the big bon fire was built and while the fire was burning W. O. Howard introduced George A. Holderness, next senator. He spoke a few minutes and pointing to the fire said: "That's what Mr. Wilson kept us out of and because he did is why we are here tonight." Captain Paul Jones delighted the crowd with some anecdotes.

FINE RECORD FOR BAND

Whitlock-West Organization Had Solid Week of Engagements.

If there is anything at all in that old adage, "the proof of the pudding is in the eating," the Whitlock-West band and orchestra seems to be the pudding in the musical line in Wilmington. This organization, always boosters for Wilmington, have to their credit the following engagements for the past week: Monday, Democratic rally at Jacksonville and a dance at night; Tuesday, the Wilmington Corn Show and a dance at night at Bolton; Wednesday and Thursday, the Corn Show parade and Corn Show concerts with a dance in this city and Friday the Corn Show and a dance that night at Burgaw. Yesterday was a rest day with the exception of the Democratic parade last night.

This is a record to be proud of, especially in a city the size of Wilmington. Among the engagements already booked for the future are several at Burgaw, Wallace, Bolton, Currie, Atkinson, Councils, Wilson, Florence, Whiteville and several in this city.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Only Four Cases Came Up for Trial at Yesterday's Session.

Wash McNeill, colored, charged with stealing some whiskey from the Elks' Club, Friday night, was the principal offender to face Recorder Empie at yesterday's session of the court. He was given four months in which to repent of his sins. He attempted to implicate George Brooks, another negro, but the court not prossed the case against Brooks. Lila Smith and Estelle Crawford, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, had judgment suspended in their cases, on payment of the costs.

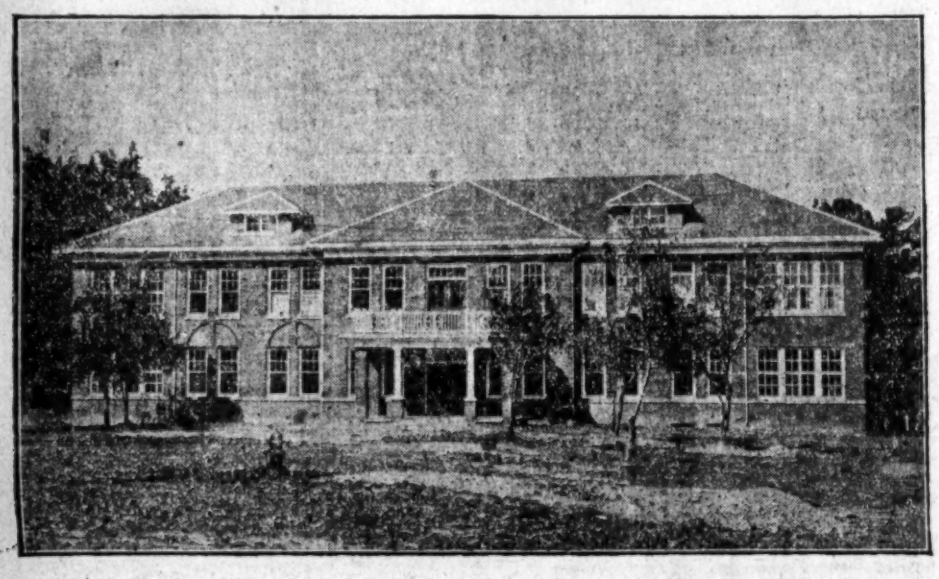
DONATED BY MESSRS. JAMES AND WILLIAM H. SPRUNT.



This is a view of the orphan's hospital or infirmary, built and presented to the Presbyterian Orphanage at Barium Springs, N. C., by Mr. James Sprunt and his brother, Mr. William H. Sprunt, of Wilmington, N. C., both of whom are deeply interested in this great cause of humanity. The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina recently held at Salisbury went by special train to Barium Springs, a distance of some 60 or 70 miles, to inspect and dedicate this fine gift to this institution under its care and all who attended were impressed by this beautiful building and its superior interior finish. The donors have provided also for its equipment. The cost of the new building, which was started nearly a year ago and has just been completed, was $15,000. Leading architects of the country were consulted in making the plans and the hospital is thoroughly modern in every respect.

NEAR 327,000 BLACKS HAVE LEFT THE SOUTH

This Number of Negroes Migrated Since War Began.

Auditor of The Navy Under Taft, Ralph W. Tyler, Tells of Effect on Negroes in the North—More to Follow Suit, Predicted

(By Ralph W. Tyler, in Cincinnati Enquirer.)

That the noticeably large migration of negroes from the South to the North should attract country-wide attention and invite a serious discussion in the press, both North and South, is perfectly natural, because of the possible effect this migration may have on the economical and social conditions in the North, and on the economic condition in the South.

Since the breaking out of the European war, or to be specific, during the last two years, 326,876 native blacks of the South have moved North and spread themselves over Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, the Northwest, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, New York and the New England States.

Were Dr. Booker T. Washington living today what would be his position relative to this large and unusual migration of Negroes, from their Southern homes? Knowing him as I did, and enjoying his confidence as I did, I believes I commit no error in stating he would strenuously discourage it, for the reason that he sincerely believed the South was the best place for the great mass of the race, and for the reason that he believed any large influx of Southern negroes into Northern states would germinate a problem in the North not dissimilar to the one that has long existed in the South.

He believed that through a large migration of Southern negroes to the North, instead of continuing the assistance of Northern white philanthopists to aid in solving the educational and economic problem of the negro in the South he would lose such assistance, because of a like problem protruding itself on the North, and a possible change of sentiment in consequence.

Distance lends enchantment to the view, and contract frequently changes established views. Dr. Washington believed, at least he frequently so expressed himself to me, that a congested, uneducated negro population in the North would engender the same antagonism that is prevalent in the South. Dr. Washington was always an optimist. He believed the South was the natural home for the masses of his race, and that education and an economic independence eventually would solve the problem in the South. He confidently believed this, in spite of the fact that in reverse proportion as the negro reduced his illiteracy and acquired lands and cash, discrimination, segregation and lynchings increased in the South.

If the migration or southern negros to the North continues, at the rate it has during the last two years, a million and a half blacks from the South will, by 1920, have scattered themselves over those northern states that, once upon a time, were regarded as pro-negro states in sentiment.

What will be the result? Will the North, brought face to face with congested millions of negroes, continue as fair toward the race as she was when but a few hundred thousand were scattered throughout her domain—so few as to produce no appreciable effect either on the economic or social conditions?

An answer to this may, and may not be surmised from the rapidly developing antiance feeling in certain sections of the North, whose negro population had increased, prior to this recent heavy migration, from a few hundred to thousands.

Boston, the cradle of liberty, whose abolitionists, a half century ago, thundered against injustices committeed against the negro in the South, and who demanded for him that equality proclaimed in the Constitution, began barring negroes, as a rule, from her hotels and cafes a decade ago, emphasizing her changed sentiment by selecting the late Bishop B. W. Arnett, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, as the first to be refused hotel accommodations.

New York, a vertiable babel of races and color, cosmopolitan as she is, and worshiping the dollar as she does, no matter from whose pocket it comes, began drawing the lines when 70,000 negroes congested Harlem, and intruded on adjacent residential districts because the area bounded by One Hundred and Thirty-second, One Hundred and Thirty-fifth streets, Lenox and Seventh avenues, because a too pent-up Utica to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of negroes.

Sister City Acts.

Pittsburg, more than a decade ago, drew the line as to hotel, cafe and theater equal service, and now her sister city, Philadelphia, within whose boundaries reside 94,000 negroes, mostly from the South, has drawn the line as to admission to picture theaters. Cleveland, Ohio, once the fairest city in the Central West for the dark complexioned son of Ham, put on the reverse lever when she discovered her negro population had more than trebled itself.

Columbus, Ohio, where once the best seats in the theaters were as free to negroes as to whites, now shunts them off into the gallery, or refuses them admission, and as for hotels and best restaurants that once proclaimed "a man's a man, black or white, for all of that," a negro, although rich, cannot be accommodated. And this has come to pass since Columbus's negro population jumped from 5,000 to 25,000.

Chicago, still reasonably fair toward the negro because of inflexible laws, backed by a political exigency the large negro vote creates, every now and then gets attention in negro newspapers because of reported discriminations against the race in hotels, restaurants and even department stores. Chicago now has 70,000 negroes, by far the greater number of whom being recent migrators from the South.

Beauty But Skin Deep.

If this movement of blacks from the South to the North continues will Jim-crow cars and suffrage restrictions for them be agitated as now prevails in the South? Beauty, is but skin deep, and sentiment frequently is but a veneer. The Northen white man may change his attitude toward the negro when the negro increases his numbers in the North out of proportion to the fixed ideas of the Cauces and who inhabits the North, thus proving sentiment is but a veneer.

The fact that negro labor is in demand because of the return to their native lands of many thousands of foreigners for military service, and the fact that negro labor likely will be in demand in the North for some years to come due to a tremendous falling off of foreign immigration, because Europe will need her diminished number of able-bodied men to rebuild her cities after the war, means that the South either will have to put on the "reverse English" in the matter of her treatment of her negro labor or awake to find her cotton fields and rice plantations but weed and thistle bearing lands, because of no labor to still, sow or to reap.

Because of the demand for labor in the North, and the negroes coming up from the South to supply that demand, there are many who contend conditions for the negro in the North, will improve; that the Northern white employer, unlike the Southern brother, finding himself dependant on negro labor, will let down, rather than put up the bars to privileges.

Refers to Voting.

There are many who contend that a million more negro voters distributed in debatable Northern states will constitute a preserver of rights and privileges for the negro, where same are in vogue, and re-establish them in favor where they have been undergoing a modification and restriction.

However, any discussion of the effect, either on sentiment towards the negro in the North, or on the negro himself of this movement of the negroes from South to the North must be largely academic. An interesting question for answer, and the most interesting question at present, is—in what states have these 326,876 Southern negroes scattered themselves, and what per cent is skilled labor and what per cent is common labor.

QUILT MADE BY MOTHER OF GOVERNOR DUDLEY EXHIBITED

An Interesting Relic Shown at the Fair at Faison.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 11.—An object that aroused much interest at the recent Faison fair was a handsome quilt made in 1800 by Mrs. Margaret Dudley, mother of Governor Dudley, of North Carolina. It is made, of course, by hand, and has designs of pea fowls and flowers appliqued on a white ground, the effect being quite artistic and attractive. The stitches are so fine and delicate as to be almost indistinguishable. The lining of cotton cloth was woven on the home plantation. The quilt, which, in spite of its age of 116 years, is fresh in appearance, is in the possession of Miss Emily Hill, of Faison, a great granddaughter of Mrs. Dudley, its maker.

Duplin county's total vote for Wilson is 1,824; Hughes, 1,527; for Bickett, 1,844; Linney, 1,524.

Invitations Out But She Weds Another

MISS HELEN CREECH MARRIED TO DR. E. R. WARREN THOUGH WEDDING TO MR. GWYN HAD BEEN ANNOUNCED.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 11.—A sensation was sprung in this city today when it was learned that Miss Helen Creech, a prominent society girl of Goldsboro, had secretly married Dr. E. R. Warren, a local dentist, last night, Rev. P. McIntyre, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performing the ceremony. The wedding came as a big surprise to friends in this city owing to the fact that reecntly wedding invitations had been sent out announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Creech to Mr. Paul Perkins Gwyn, of Elkin, N. C.

Following a social function held in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. Gwyn last night, Miss Creech and Dr. Warren went to the home of Rev. Mr. McIntyre, and in a few minutes after their arrival were quietly married.

Both groom and bride are very popular in the social circles of this city, Miss Creech being the daughter of R. A. Creech, a prominent and wealthy business man of Goldsboro, and why Miss Creech changed her mind at the eleventh hour and married Dr. Warren, is a secret not even known by her most intimate friends, her father included, who knew nothing of a love affair between the young couple.

Believing that one never gets too old to marry, Jonathan Davis, a wealthy planter of this county, 90 years, and Miss Peninah Gaskins, aged 60 years, were married Friday night of last week, 'Squire Jas. R. Hatch, of this city, officiating. The marriage took place in Pikeville and from his appearance one would judge the groom to be a much younger man than he is, according to a statement to this effect by 'Squire Hatch.

School Grows Fine Potatoes.

The students of the Williston Industrial school for colored people are making an enviable record in the cultivation of the ground in the vicinity of the school building. A half acre was planted in the well known yams and some of the samples on display yesterday in the office of the Board of Education showed that the soil certainly is prolific. One of the big ones weighed three pounds and nine ounces while others were practically as large. All of them were well formed and of the best quality.

THIS STOPS HAIR FROM FALLING OUT

Ever try to count the dead fallen hairs in your comb and brush? They are nature's advance warning of future baldness and proof that the dangerous little dandruff germ is busy on your scalp.

Dr. Sangerbund, the famous Paris specialist, first discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe. Then came the discovery of the value of the real Parisian Sage (liquid form) in destroying the dandruff germ and promptly preventing the further loss of hair. The effect of only three days' use of Parisian Sage is simply marvelous, and the American people have now awakened to the fact that dandruff is just as unnecessary as it is unhealthy, and that they can be quickly rid of it and save their hair by using a few ounces of Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is sold for not more than 50 cents a large bottle at drug and toilet counters everywhere. It is an ideal, daintily perfumed liquid, free from grease and stickiness, and will surely cause hair to grow soft, lustrous and really seem twice as abundant.

R. R. Bellamy always has a large supply, and guarantees it to you.

ARMY Y. M. C. A. IN MEXICO

Particulars of Effective Work Done by Truck Expedition to General Pershing's Base. (Border Work).

Particulars of the cordial reception given to the Young Men's Christian Association's expedition sent into Mexico to General Pershing's base, and of the effective work done, have been received in reports from the secretary in charge. The truck train left Columbus, New Mexico, on September 15, stopped at six camps and delivered thousands of sheets of letter paper and envelopes, hundreds of magazines and many Testaments.

The first call was at Vado, where arrangements were made with the commanding officer for the distribution of the supplies. There was no uncertainty about the welcome accorded the bearer of the news that the Young Men's Christian Association would make regular shipments of supplies to his men. The next stop was made at Ojo Frederico, which is 67 miles from Columbus, Vado being only 20 miles across the border.

Cordial Greeting at Dublan.

After 44 miles more of dusty travel the trucks train arrived at the big camp at Dublan, receiving a blunt but exceedingly cordial greeting from the camp commander. Getting in touch with Chaplain Moose, the senior chaplain of the post, the camp's co-operation was demonstrated by the fact that in two hours after arrival a tent was being erected, for the Young Men's Christian Association and the chaplains to use in the distribution of supplies.

That night Chaplain Moose introduced the Association secretary to an assemblage of more than 3000 men, to whom he spoke briefly. By 8 o'clock the next morning a line of men several hundred long, was waiting for the distribution of supplies. The line, which averaged nearly 300 men, was maintained in front of the Young Men's Christian Association tent for four hours. Sometimes the line ran up to 300 men. Six men handed out letterheads, envelopes and magazines to an average of 20 applicants to the minute. The line formed again at 12:30, and the last man was supplied at 4 o'clock. There were given out 20,000 letterheads, 15,900 envelopes, 6000 magazines and 2000 pencils.

During the distribution of the stationary and magazines, men who saw the box of Testaments made requests for them, but were told that the Testaments would be given out later by the chaplains. The reason for this was that a man who will ask for a Testament is in a frame of mind to receive and profit by spiritual counsel, and the chaplains being on the ground are in the best position to follow up the opportunity thus offered for personal work. t

Talking to Colored Regiments.

On the invitation of Chaplain Scott of the 10th cavalry, a regiment of colored men, the secretary in charge of the expedition gave a brief talk to the men of this regiment, and also of the 24th Infantry, 250 of whom were present and listened with respectful attention.

There was a conference with the chaplains of the camp, at which the secretary explained the plan of the Army Association for cooperation in the spiritual uplift of the men. The suggestion was made that the tent in which supplies had been distributed might be secured permanently, and equipped with writing tables and other conveniences like the Association buildings in the border camps. The request was no sooner made of the commandng officer than granted, and the same night men were writing letters to the home folks in the Association tent, the chaplains being in charge. The conference resulted in the Young Men's Christain Association tent, the motion picture equipment of Chaplain Moose and the vaudevile stage of Chaplain Lloyd being grouped at one point, thus centering all the social and religious activities.

Took the Paymaster Along.

The expedition left Dublan for El Valle, taking the paymaster along in the same train. The first stop was Charcos, about 15 miles south of Dublan, where supplies were left with the lieutenant in command. The next visit was at San Joaquin. The trucks arrived at El Valle about 11 o'clock. Arrangements were promptly made with Chaplain Randolph for the distribution of the supplies.

The truck train returned to Dublan the next day, and pulled out of Dublan for Columbus at 6 a. m. on September 22nd. There were opportunities for brief talks by the secretary at every camp and not a few interviews with men who welcomed the secretary's counsel.

The supplies distributed or left at each camp were as follows:

Vado—2000 letterheads; 1000 envelopes; 50 magazines; 18 Testaments; 1 dozen pencils.

Ojo Frederico—6000 letterheads; 4000 envelopes; 450 magazines; 60 Testaments; 18 dozen jencils.

Dublan—57,000 letterheads; 38,000 envelopes; 20 boxes magazines; 650 Testaments.

San Joaquin—4,000 retterheads; 2,500 envelopeso 250 magazines; 35 Testaments; 1 gross pencils.

Fine New Hanover Potatoes.

The Star has, with the compliments of Mr. S. A. Jones, of Sea Gate, a specimen of some remarkably fine sweet potatoes grown in New Hanover and recently exhibited at the Corn Show. The potatoes were very large, of excellent quality and flavor and Mr. Jones was fortunate in securing one of the ribbon prizes for the class in which his product was entered. In the exhibit of Mr. Jones, he scored heavily upon the excellency of New Hanover's soil and his ability as an agriculturist.

IS PRESENT CHINESE REGIME THREATENED?

Trouble Might Follow Restriction of Military Power.

Military in Conference Declare Party Politics is Displacing All Desire for Peace Under Present Government.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

Peking, Oct. 15.—Military leaders from the various provinces have just held a conference at Hsuchowfu, in Kiangsu province, which threatens the existence of the present government should the parliament persist in its efforts to restrict the power of the military. General Chang Hsun, who is probably the most feared of all the old time military leaders in China, called the conference, and many of the newspapers which are in sympathy with the present parliament charge that Tuan Chi-jui, the premier, is in sympathy with the position taken by the military.

The conference declared that party politics is displacing all desire for peace and harmony under the present government, and that the national assembly which is now wrangling in Peking has accomplished nothing and is being manipulated by political leaders, "who would be willing to sell their country if they were abe to attain their selfish ends."

It was the chief purpose of the conference to form a military union for the checking of violent characters and the preservation of peace. While the military conference favored the principle of having a national assembly, it went on record as being in favor of a dissolution of the assembly by military force should that body take steps inimical to the welfare of the nation.

The conference also considered the proposed constitution which the national assembly is about to draft, and insisted that the legislators should be guided in framing the constitution by the advice of experienced military men. Chang Yao-tseng, the new minister of justice, was singled out as a member of the cabinet who is wholly unworthy to retain his position, and a protest against him was sent to the central government. The objection to the minister of justice is based on his alleged connection with the recent opium smuggling case at Shanghai. Large quantities of Yunnan opium were taken into Shanghai by an official party, of which Chang-Yao-tseng was a member. He was officially exonerated, but both the press and the public regarded the official action as a whitewashing; and his retention in the cabinet provoked wide criticism even before the military conference took action.

The military leaders also insisted that a competent minister of foreign affairs should be immediately appointed to look after the tangled international question which China now faces.

Parliament and the military party stand at opposite poles. Tuan Chi-jui, the premier, is primarily a military man in sympathy with the practical methods of the old-time Chinese who believe that the strict exercise of military power is the only means of maintaining peace in Chia. President Li Yuan-hung, while primarily a military man, s not so strongly in sympathy with the military party. He has endeavored to maintain middle ground and harmonize the parliamentarians and the military leaders. His success nas not been marked. While the revolutionary troubles have been entirely quieted at Canton and in other parts of Kwangtung province, and the Szechuen situation is no longer threatening, there is general dissatisfaction throughout China with the inaction of parliament, and a clash between the parliament and the military is freely predicted.

Hail all hail the Nation's choice!
Heaven high our anthem heed!
Let the land and sea rejoice;

Hail to our President!
The Nation's pride;
Greatness thine excellence,
In truth abide;
Proudly we take thy hand,
Thou chosen of our land,
Thine at the helm to stand,
To guard, to guide.

Hail to thy natal day!
Our loyal state;
God's blessing crave for thee
Our songs vibrate;
Now, we extol thy name,
How doth our love sustain,
While o'er our vast domain,
Shine mem'ries great.

Hail to the land's elect!
With honor blest;
New hopes thy coming brings,
All care at rest;
Where festal flowers sway,
Where glory gilds the day,
Thy voice does charm for aye,
Fair freedom's breast.

Hail to our native son!
For Peace and Right;
Leading beneath the flag,
Chieftain of might;
Then in this star-lit bow'r,
Let wisdom crown thy power,
Stand firmly on this tow'r,
In freedom's light.

WILSON NIGHT AT UNIVERSITY

Chapel Hill, N. C. Nov. 11.—A royal celebration was held by the students of the University Thursday night when the news was flashed that Wilson had been elected. A big bonfire was built in the middle of Main street in front of the postoffice and another near the old well in front of the South building. Yells and cheers for Wilson rent the air, while the various Democratic campaign slogans were shouted. The attempt of a number of the local fire company to drown the fire was cut short and the demonstration went on until late in the night. A parade, headed by the college band, marched up and down the town, and even invaded Carrboro, the nearby cotton mill village, startling the inhabitants there from their slumbers.

TO BOOST W. A. M'LEAN FOR CABINET POSITION

Lumberton Republican Leader Starts Post-Election Movement

Robeson Democrats Ready to Fall in Line—Lumberton Also Made a Joyful Noise—Robeson Official Returns—Court.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 11.—Probably the largest, dryest and best natured election held in the county was that of Tuesday. We have heard of no disturbance anywhere, and there was no indication that anybody had ever seen anything intoxicating. The vote of the county ran about as already reported, Sheriff Lewis leading with a majority of 1,949, balance of the ticket following closely.

Both sides worked hard, but the Republicans stood no chance and while they did all they could they knew there was no chance for them, and took defeat like men. Dr. T. A. Norment, one of the hardest working Republicans in this section, says that now he is going to boost Mr. A. W. McLean for a cabinet position. He says Mr. McLean is well-qualified, deserves and should have substantial recognition. In this instance, all our people agree with Dr. "Tom" Norment.

Our people retired Tuesday night sick, tired and blue. While they rejoiced at State and county results, the news coming in regarding the presidential election was something else. Wednesday morning conditions had changed, and that day, Thursday, was a day of suspense, such as is seldom experienced. Thursday night, when it seemed that Winning Woodrow Wilson had won without a doubt, everything went wild.

The Star correspondent voted in his 10th presidential election Tuesday, having helped elect Cleveland twice, and Wilson twice, but the demonstration here Thursday night eclipsed anything he had ever seen. If there was anything here that could make a noise that was not used, we do not know of it. It's a safe bet that there was no less than a dozen fire alarms sent in, and never before did we see or hear so many tin horns. Anything to make a noise, but everyone was in a good humor.

The official vote of Robeson county gives Wilson 2,894, Hughes 1,453; Bickett [illegible], Linney [illegible]; Godwin 2,847, McCaskill 1,542; Gough, State Senate, 2,971, Humphrey 1,215; for the House, Sellars, 2,996, Oliver 3,011; Barnes 1,206; Hester 1,205. Sheriff Lewis led the county with 3,104 against 1,155 for his opponent, ex-Sheriff Hall; Register of Deeds Floyd received 3,077, while his opponent, Mr. Kinlaw, received 1,159. Democratic coroner and surveyor had no opposition. Commissioners C. B. Townsend, Jno. W. Ward and J. F. McKay were re-elected by the same overwhelming majorities as county officers. Recorder Britt and Prosecuting Attorney McLean were re-elected. Mr. W Gerald Pittman was elected justice of the peace for Lumberton township, over two aspirants. There is absolutely no doubt about Robeson county being Democratic, as will be seen by majorities ranging from 1,750 to 1,950.

Lumberton Democrats were on the job Thursday night, called up Democratic headquarters in New York at 9 o'clock and were told that Mr. McCormick was out celebrating. The speaker at the Ne wYork end said "There is no doubt about it, Wilson is surely elected, go ahead and celebrate."

Robeson Fair This Week.

Next Wednesday the Robeson county fair will open in Lumberton and continue through Saturday. With good weather the fair is going to be a big success, and it should be, for those who are promoting it have spared neither time nor labor to make it a success. Everybody is invited to come and bring their leatives and friends.

Lumberton, Fairmont, Rowland, Red Springs, Maxton and other sections of the county who enjoy first-class theatrical attractions, are invited to visit the Lumberton opera house on Tuesday evening, November 21st, at which time Mr. Bert Leigh and Miss Hazel Burgess will be seen in a big musical attraction, entitled "The Girl Who Smiles." The opera house management guarantees to make every girl in the house smile. It's going to be the theatrical treat of the season.

Mr. Mills, who has been in charge of the construction work of the new Loraine Hotel, says that his work is done, and the presumption is that in a short time furniture will begin arriving for the building. By new year, at latest, Lumberton should have a hotel in operation, second to none in this section.

The Williams Stock Company closed its engagement at the Pastime theatre tonight. The engagement has been one of real pleasure, both to members of the company and the many friends they have had here for the past several years. Business was good throughout the week, except Thursday night, when the Wilson demonstration swept everything. The show is one of the best of its kind that ever visited Lumberton.

A sure-enough "possum" was "treed," in an oak tree opposite the jail, yesterday. T evidently was attracted by the great noise made in town Thursday night, and like other Wilsonites stayed out late. The 'possum should not have been molested, but what surpasses "sweet taters and 'possum?"

"The End of the World is Coming" to the Pastime theatre next Wednesday in six big reels. Such a picture has not been shown in Lumberton, and is one that all should see. The price of this great feature is going to be within reach of all. "The Lass of the Lumberlands," a new 15-chapter serial featuring Helen Holmes, will begin next Saturday at the Pastime.

The one-week term of Superior Court for trying criminal cases, with Judge Winston presiding, closed today. There was no case of great importance, the one of most interest locally being that of one "Rev. Dr." Arnolds, street doctor and quack doctor. He was charged with practicing medicine without license and the jury found him guilty. He was given lodging last night in the county jail, and at this writing sentence has not been passed on him. The business people in the vicinity of the court house square hope that he will leave Lumberton, as it seems to be the general opinion that a more objectionable character never resided here.

Thursday night, during the Wilson demonstration a large crowd assembled in the court house, discussed the advisability of having a county ratification meeting. Committees were invited to meet here, from every township in the county next Tuesday to discuss the matter and determine whether or not to have such and if so, when. By all means let it be held and let every Democrat in Robeson and surrounding counties be here.

Wednesday morning cotton rose 52 points on the Lumberton market, and The Star man bought eggs for 2 1-2 cents less on the dozen than the day before the election, from the same merchant.

The store recently vaacated by Stephens and Barnes on Chestnut street, is being fitted up for a grocery store, and is said to have been rented, but the name of the renter has not been learned. W. S. W.

—Summons was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the Superior court in the case of J. F. Rouse vs. Bettie J. Rouse, and action for divorce.

—"Judge" G. W. Bornemann will speak this morning at 10 o'clock at the Advent Christian church, Fourth and Church streets.

BRUNSWICK INTENSELY INTERESTED IN FIGHT

Several Factors Contributed to Zest in the Election.

Election Day the Culmination of a Contest Which Really Began Two Years Ago—"Vote of Confidence" Say Republicans.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Southport, N. C., Nov. 11.—The election in Brunswick county last Tuesday was an intense affair among the people of the county. A close county, in its political vote ,always a presidential election naturally gives a predominating force to the Democratic side, because the weight of the Nation and State is for Democrats.

November 7th at the Brunswick polls saw the culmination of a contest that really began two years ago, when with the inauguration of a Republican board of county commissioners, there was given the promise of an administration for economy, as well as for a just and wise administration of the county affairs. Upon this promise the Republicans put up their fight, and won.

The county commissioners, during their incumbency, gave the county a farm demonstrator, instituted at some expense a system of inoculation and built a number of new bridges, and with these reduced tax rate. The mandamus proceedings between the commissioners and the board of education, was another feature of the two years of office of these commissioners, though no one openly charges that any political animus inspired the action. The majority vote given the new board of commissioners, 179, is said to be the largest ever voted. That Democrats voted this ticket to some extent is apparent. Republicans say, the vote is "one of confidence and reward for promises carried out."

From the time of the nomination of both county tickets, the fight was on. Speakers spoke at all points, and literature filled the malls at every local postoffice. At first the candidates for the lower house of the next General Assembly, both having faced each other two years ago, were subjects of attention to some extent because of the previous contest. But the Democrats conceded a defeat on this ticket weeks before election. The contest then turned on the commissioners, and the sentiment days before the election, regardless of party, was that the Republicans would win.

Around the only money offices in the county, sheriff and register of deeds, there has raged one continuous fight, a contest that was one of the individual as much as one of party. The Democratic incumbents were both popular. A presidential campaign lines up the regulars to the limit on each side. Therefore, it was personal effort on each side to pick off possible votes, for those running for these offices. Being the money offices, it followed that the campaign funds would come to each side because of the fight. Workers for both parties sprang up at every precinct, in addition to the outside speakers brought in, and literature sent out. That there was any vote buying, is not openly and hardly on the quiet charged. There is nothing to indicate that a dollar went to pay for irregular political work of any kind.

The close fight ceased only when the polls closed. Watch over every voter was kept, and both sides made it a miserable day for those who had failed to pay their poll taxes, for they were promptly challenged and passed away, many who earnestly hoped to cast a ballot.

The Republican county majorities caused the increased majorities of the candidates that were running on the State, Congressional and National tickets, though what these received was secondary to the success of all local candidates. The presidential vote for Hughes was a majority one of 179, this as well as other majority votes having previously been printed in The Star. The one indifferent feature of the Brunswick vote was that of the amendments. About a forty per cent. vote only was cast. C. L. S.

SOUTHERN STATESMEN FOR ENFORCED PEACE

Leaders Approve Scheme of World Statesmanship.

Congressmen, Governors and Supreme Court Justices Endorse Movement to Insure Peace After Present War is Over.

New York, Nov. 9.—Makers, interpreters and administrators of law in the Southern states have put themselves on record in favor of a constructive scheme of world-statesmanship intended to insure peace with justice for the nations after the present war is over. A number of Southern Senators and Representatives in Congress have written to Wm. H. Taft, president of the League to Enforce Peace, indorsing the programme of that organization; the governor of Alabama and all the seven justices of the Supreme Court of that state have become members of the organization and are giving it their active support. Here are some sample letters received by President Taft:

"The principles of the League to Enforce Peace meet with my hearty indorsement," writes Senator Lee S. Overman, of North Carolina. "I think Congress should give this matter most careful and earnest consideration; and if possible, take steps to bring about an association of nations for the purpose of establishing international peace and preventing war."

"A compact of nations, agreeing to use force against an international disturber of the peace, certainly is an alliance with unmistakable entanglements; but it is not the sort of alliance Washington had in mind," writes Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi. "Washington thought of such alliances as where nations A, B, and C, joined for selfish purposes against D and E, perhaps to prosecute the pet wars of hereditary lines of princes. Were Washington standing in Wilson's place today he would see the wisdom of joining national action against international brawlers."

"With the general principles enunciated by the League to Enforce Peace I am in heartiest sympathy," writes Representative David J. Lewis, of the Sixth Maryland district. "There is no longer room in domestic communities for non-justiciable controversies; and there is less reason for the non-justiciable in the international community than in domestic differences."

"I cannot commend too strongly the objects and purposes of the League to Enforce Peace," writes Representative Charles P. Coady, of the Third Maryland district. "It is our paramount duty to do all we can to prevent as far as possible wars for all time to come."

"I most heartily approve of the programme of the League to Enforce Peace," writes Representative Thetus W. Sims, of the Eighth Tennessee district.

"The purposes of the League to Enforce Peace meet my earnest concurrence," writes Andrew J. Montague, Representative from the Third district of Virginia. "The juridical system obtaining within nations must sooner or later obtain n some form between nations. How its judgments are to be effectuated will afford room for differences of opinion; but the interests of civilization deserve and demand some method of enforcement."

"I heartily endorse the object and purposes of the League," writes Riley J. Wilson, Representative from the Fifth District of Louisiana. "In my humble judgment this Nation should be not only a member, but the leading force and spirit in the establishment of an international tribunal looking toward the peace and security of the world. There should be some tribunal, court or commission with power and authority to investigate and adjudicate upon the rights of all parties to international disputes."

John T. Watkins, Representative from the Fourth district of Louisiana, writes: "The proposals of the League are reasonable, just and humane; and I do not see how any patriotic American could feel other than favorable to the principles advocated by the League."

The following case is but one of many occuring daily in Wilmington. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

C. W. Hollowbush, director of Academy of Music, E. Market St. Road, Wilmington, says: "My back ached and throbbed so that I could hardly endure it. When I got down to pick up anything, I couldn't straighten without a great deal of pain. My kidneys didn't act regularly. The kidney secretions contained sediment, were painful and highly colored. I doctored and tried different medicines, but got no better. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at L. B. Sasser's Drug Store. When I had finished two boxes, my back felt as sount as ever, my kidneys acted regularly and in every way, I felt like a different man."

THEATRICAL

In "Her Father's Son," the Morosco-Paramount photoplay at the Grand tomorrow, the unusually excellent quality of the production is revealed in the first flash of the introductory scene. As the main announcement disappears it is replaced by a beautiful and very unusual progressing image.

The scene shows a very beautiful Vivian Martin in a smart gown, alone, near the rose-bedecked center table. Then a most unforeseen event hapens, she is joined in a very clever manner by the dual characters which she plays; the Southern belle of great beauty who is ravishingly fascinating in her crinolines, hoop skirts and golden curls; quickly followed by the shapely youth of dainty frame, who seems so boyishly handsome.

The great attraction of the story is in the complexities and perplexities evoked by these two parts. Many are the humorous situations, but the real dramatic and histrionic features of this strong story make it a superb production not to be missed. The Old South in all its charming glory is revealed in the new Morosco-Paramount photoplay "Her Father's Son."

The wonderful colonial mansion; the priceless antiques in the enormous main hall that contains furniture that would make a collector delirious; the spectacle of nearly a hundred couples dancing the dainty old-fashioned dances—all form a glorious, romantic setting for the love story of a beautiful girl who successfully masquerades as a boy.

Triangle Feature at Royal.

Monday at the Royal will be presented another one of those extraordinary Triangle Features, one of the biggest of the entire year, starring Lilly" in the convent of St. Cecelia. The plot covers mainly her adventures in the outer world after she has fled from the convent believing she can find a greater mission outside its walls.

"Liberty" Tomorrow.

Tomorrow at the Bijou, in the latest episode of that great Universal serial superior, "Liberty," there will be flashed to Bijou audiences what is undoubtedly one of the most thrilling bits of photoplay acting that has ever been transferred to a screen.

The New York city critics were unanimous in voting this greatest chapter yet of this great serial, and after viewing it privately in advance of its release, there were loud and unanimous exclamations of praise and the criticisms that subsequently appeared in the press bore out this claim that it was the very biggest chapter of any serial that had yet been shown anywhere in America. Marie Walcamp does some of the most thrilling work in her entire film career in this chapter, and every patron of the Bijou should see it.

There is another extraordinary feature on tomorrow's bill. That world famous novel by Emile Gaboriau, "The Mystery of Orcival," was made into a mammoth three-reel film version by Biograph, and stars those strong dramatic stars, Vera Sisson, Charles Mailes, G. Raymond Nye, Getchen Hartman and Jack Mulhall, among other world famous stars, and will be presented tomorrow. It is an extremely artistic production of this tense story and will be a strong attraction for many hundreds of patrons who have read or heard of the story.

"Nobody Home."

John P. Slocum will present "Nobody Home," one of the season's newest and smartest musical successes, at the Academy of Music on Wednesday, November 22.

This clever comedy with its jolly tunes, unique dances and bright lines, kept New York, Boston and Chicago singing, dancing and laughing for nearly two years. The cast to be seen at the Academy is headed by Charles McNaughton, who created the leading comedy role in London. He will be remembered here in the original "Spring Maid," "Little Miss Fix-It," and "Sweethearts." Other prominent names include Frico DeVere, Lew Christy, William Blaisdell, Edna Temple, John Paulton, Helen Jost, Roy Torrey, Marion Langdon, and Rance Quarrington.

The story of "Nobody Home" tells of Freddy Popple, of Ippleton, England, who comes to New York to visit his brother, Vernon, New York's most famous dancing teacher, and of his winning the love of the prima donna of the Winter Garden, Tony Miller, who has been much sought after by the wealthiest men of the Metropolis. Freddy is a shy, whimsical chap of the "Silly-ass" type, very slow and calculating and as played by Charles McNaughton is one of the most delightful characters of the production.

One of the special added attractions of the piece is the dancing of Joe O. Hess and Gertrude Bennett, who created nothing less than a sensation in New York last summer, while playing an extended engagement at the Palace theatre. The famous Vernon Castle is quoted as saying they were "the greatest dancing team in America," and added that the statement included Mrs. Castle and himself.

The scenery and stage decorations were planned and designed by Miss Elsie De Wolfe, designer for the smart set of New York. This is Miss De Wolfe's first work of the kind and it was done through her friendship for Miss Elizabeth Marbury, who is associated with Mr. Slocum in the management of "Nobody Home." It is highly appreciated in every city because of its artistic unusual appeal. The chorus is composed of girls who represent distinct types of American and European beauties. A special orchestra is also an added feature. Many of the popular numbers of the score are already familiar to local music lovers. "The Magic Melody" is now accepted as one of the best one-steps of the season. Other numbers which will no doubt become popular here are "A Question of Bait," "You Know and I Know," "Why Take a Sandwich to a Banquet," "Keep Moving," and many others.

TOMORROW'S TRIANGLE FEATURE AT THE ROYAL.

Charles McNaughton, Mildren Elaine, Frisco DeVere and Helen Jost in the big musical codey success, "Nobody Home," which comes to the Academy of Music on Wednesday, November 22.

that distinguished dramatic and emotional artiste, Bessie Barriscale, with an all-star supporting cast including that virile and strong dramatic actor, William Desmond, who essays the role opposite Miss Barriscale, Ora Garew, Hereschall Mayer and Edgewood Nowell, one of the greatest casts of stars ever seen in a single Triangle production.

Those who are missing any of the recent Triangle features at the Royal are absolutely letting pass by the very greatest motion pictures that are now being produced. There is no doubt in the world but that the present Triangle programme is the most expensive that is being shown, and that it has a bigger aggregation of headliner stars than any of the others. The best patrons of the Royal, some of them, are neglecting their biggest opportunity to enjoy the very biggest shows when they pass by a Triangle—and especially is this the case with tomorrow's attraction.

Miss Barriscale's role is one which she has never before essayed, a drama of Italian locale of blind devotion, and Miss Barriscale has the role of Sister Beatrice, who is first seen as "The

PISGAH NATIONAL FOREST IS NOW FEDERAL GAME PRESERVE

President Wilson Issues Proclamation as to North Carolina Lands.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson has issued a proclamation by which the Pisgah National Forest, in Western North Carolina, is made a Federal game preserve. This is the first Federal game preserve of its kind to be created east of the Mississippi river.

The Pisgah National Forest consists largely of the George W. Vanderbilt estate, part of which has been purchased by the Government. The land is located near Asheville and Biltmore, N. C. Owing to the protection against hunting which has been afforded the tract for a number of years, the game has not been killed out, as is the case in most places in the southern mountains. Deer, wild turkey, and pheasants are said to be plentiful.

After it was known that the tract would be acquired by the Government, many of the local citizens urged that the protection to the game should be continued. The North Carolina Legislature passed an act whereby the State consented to the enactment by Congress of laws for the protection of game, birds and fish on any lands purchased by the Government under the Weeks law in the western part of the State.

"THE SOUTH IS IN THE SADDLE"

"These scattering lines gather in my mind as I sit in my roller chair today," writes a Wilmington woman in enclosing some verses written by her yesterday. "I cannot join in the great parade that will honor Woodrow Wilson here tonight," she adds, "for I have been a helpless cripple for nearly eight months. But my heart is just as true to our dear old Southland and the Democratic party as in the days when the 'Stars and Bars' waved above us and our dear boys marched to the stirring strains of Dixie. I write irregularly because of my painful crippled hands that it may be hard to read. Print them if you like but whether you do or not I shall still be as loyal as ever."

"South is in the Saddle"
Hurrah, hurrah!
And California joins her in the way.
The great West now is mounting,
"Just shake hands, and keep counting
They are getting in the saddle, there to stay."

Hughes thought he held the power
Wall Street, Wall Street!
And he would use it freely in the pay
And Wall Street money rattled
As the two great forces battled
But the West got in the saddle anyway.

And from ocean to the ocean
Hurrah, hurrah!
They sand as one great people
The Southern and the Western men today
Let Wall Street money drivel
It has caused enough of evil
South and West, ride in the saddle, here to stay.

LINNEY CONGRATULATES STATE'S NEXT GOVERNOR

Says "You Have Made a Clean, Strong and Able Campaign."

Says "You Have Given an Elevated Tone to the Character of North Carolina Political Debate"—Supreme Court

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—"You have made a clean strong and able campaign and have given an elevated tone to the character of North Carolina political debate. "You have won. Accept my congratulations."

Thus reads a telegram received by Hon. T. W. Bickett, next governor of North Carolina, from Hon. Frank A. Linney, the defeated Republican candadate for governor.

In reply to the congratulatory message of Mr. Linney Mr. Bickett sent from Louisburg the following:

"Hon. Frank A. Linney, Boone N. C.,

"I thank you for your generous telegram. Your own campaign does me high credit, and I am grateful that our contest leaves no sting and no scar. Wishing you every happiness, I beg to remain,

"Sincerely,

T. W. BICKETT,"

Supreme Court Opinions

A majority of the justices of the Supreme Court, in Moore vs Commissioners of Alexander county, held that taxes levied for a special purpose with the approval of the General Assembly, the limination of taxation on property and poll may be exceeded. Justice Allen writes the opinion and Justices Brown and Hoke concur. Chief Justice Clark and Justice Walker dissent. The opinion is far reaching as there are ten millions dollars bonds of counties in the State supported by poll and property taxes in excess of the constitutinnal limitation and constitutional limitation has been reached for general expenses by all but three or four counties in the State.

The list of opinions delivered follows:

State vs Fowler, Forsyth, new trial; Knight vs Bridge Co. Forsyth, new trial; State and Solicitor vs Scales, Forsyth, reversed; Guane Co. vs Hearne Forsyth, error; Miller vs Mateer, Forsyth, affirmed; Lyons vs Knights of Pythias, Forsyth, no error; Anthony vs Jeffrey, Pitt, error; State vs Mincher, Lenoir, no error; Walker vs Burwell, Orange, judgment on fifth issue set aside; Harvester Co. vs Parham, Granville, no error; Peaslee—Gaulbert Co. vs Dixon, Caswell, no error; Drainage Commissioners vs Kirby, Caldwell, error; State vs Johnson, Guilford, no error; Alsten vs Holt, Guilford, no error; Moose vs Commissioners of Alexander county, modified and affirmed.

DEMOCRATS OF WARSAW IN ALL NIGHT CELEBRATION

After the Long Suspense, Definite News Started Something Doing.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 11.—A more jubilant crowd of Democrats would have been hard to find than the one here Thursday night when it was definitely known that President Wilson was re-elected. Practically the entire night was spent in celebration of his victory. This consisted of band concerts, shooting of fireworks, cheers and yells, automobile parades and the burying in effigy of the Republicans.

No election has ever aroused such interest here as the one just past, and while the suspense was trying to many it was concealed by much joking and hilarity, especially on the part of the young men, during the three days of uncertainty; and it must be handed to the other side—those of different political faith, even the men who had hopes of political pie if Hughes were elected—for taking the good-natured joking and "joshing" in such admirable spirit as they did.

PROF. J. W. SPINGARN IS COMING TO CHAPEL HILL

To Conduct a Seminar in Literary Criticism.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 11.—The committee on degrees with distinction at the University has just announced that a Seminar in Literary Criticism will be conducted here, during the week beginning November 20, by Prof. J. W. Spingarn, formerly professor of comparatively literature in Columbia University, and author of many books on literary history and criticism.

Five meetings will be held by Professor Spingarn, from four to six p. m. daily. The subjects will be as follows: Greece and Rome; From the Middle Ages to the Eighteenth Century; The Romantic Period; The Nineteenth Century; The New Criticism.

The purpose of the course is to give the student some idea of the main currents of literary criticism from the Greeks to the present day, and more especially to stimulate the discussion of criticism and aesthetic theory.

AMENDMENT VOTE LIGHT

Burgaw Township Gives Good Vote for Them: Others Against.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Nov. 10.—It seems that the constitutional amendments received a very light vote in Pender, as in some of the precincts they were hardly voted on at all. Burgaw township cast a good vote for them all. In Holly there were 20 votes cast against them. There were 50 Republican votes cast in Upper Holly this year, probably the only township in the county where the Republicans have made gains.

The people here were on the anxious bench from Wednesday morning until this morning about the result of the national election. Conflicting reports kept coming Wednesday and Thursday, but when the newspapers came to hand nothing was confirmed and the suspense continued until this morning when it was definitely stated that Wilson had 269 electoral votes. Then the tension relaxed and the people drew a long breath of relief, feeling thankful to have four more years of the blessing of a Wilson administration.

CAPITALISTS CONTINUE MAKING INVESTMENTS

In Big Southern Industrial Developmental Enterprises.

Coal Company Capitalized at $3,000,000 to Undertake Tremendous Development—Cotton Mills Increasing Capital Stock.

Southern industrial development announcements of the past week show a continuation of transactions requiring the investment of large amounts of capital. They are detailed in the Manufacturers Record, which presents interesting information regarding plans for numerous enterprises of varying character.

Among these is the Four States Coal Co., of Clarksburg, W. Va., which is capitalized at $3,000,000 and has acquired (for further development) 14,000 acres of coal land, with mines having an annual capacity of 2,000,000 tons of coal. The Norfolk Shipiuilding & Drydock Co., is a $1,500,000 enterprise, which contemplates building ship yards on the Berkley side of the Elizabeth river, opposite Norfolk. At Houston the Petroleum Refining Corporation, capitalized at $1,500,000, will build a plant for refining crude petroleum. Another oil refinery is that proposed by the August Refining Co., of Tulsa, Okla., which has incorporated with $750,000 capital. About $500,000 is the reported cost of a steel-forgings plant proposed at St. Louis by the Fulton Iron Works. Cotton mill activities are included in two large increases of capital by corporations located at Concord, N. C. These are the Cannon Manufacturing Co., which has added $900,000 to its capital, and the Cabarrus Cotton Mills, which will arrange a $1,500,000 increase.

The many other important items in the current Manufacturers Record include the following enterprises:

Larabee Flour Mills Corporation, Hutchinson, Kas., will build 5,000-barrel daily capacity flour mill and 500,000-bushel grain elevator reported to cost $500,000 at St. Joseph, Mo.

Meritas Mills, Columbus, Ga., will build $250,000 addition, to include 50,000 spindles and 1,300 looms for manufacturing cotton cloth.

Newsom Valve Co., St. Louis, incorporated with $250,000 capital to manufacture pneumatic valves for auto tires.

Mutual Cotton Mills Co., Gastonia, N. C., incorporated with $200,000 capital to build 6,000-spindle yarn mill.

W. L. Cleaveland, Lagrange, Ga., and associates propose organizing $200,000 campany to build meat-killing and packing plant.

Athletic Smelting Co., Webb City, Mo., will build $200,000 lead and zinc smelter at Fort Smith, Ark.

Dawson Coal Co., Clarksburg, W. Va., incorporated with $200,000 capital for the development of coal lands.

A. S. Bacon & Sons, Savannah, Ga., incorporated with $150,000 capital for manufacturing lumber.

H. E. Young & Co., Charlotteville, Va., will establish $150,000 plant for manufacturing dye and extracts.

Commonwealth Hosiery Mills, High Point, N. C., organized with $125,000 capital to establish knitting mill with daily capacity 650 dozen pairs of hose.

Good Chemical Co., Basic City, Va., incorporated with $100,000 capital to manufacture chemicals.

El Paso Sash & Door Co., El Paso, Texas, will build $100,000 mill for manufacturing sash and doors.

CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR 1916 BEING PREPARED

Will Leave New York December 1, With Cargo of Foodstuffs.

American's Christmas Gift to Destitute Armenians and Syrians—Clothing Also to be Included in Shipment to Beirut.

New York, November 11.—America's Christmas ship to foreign lands, which this year will be the navy collier Caesar, or a collier of the same type, is being relined by the government for carrying food supplies to destitute Syrians and Armenians. It will leave New York December 1, carrying a capacity cargo of foodstuffs and new clothing for Beirut, Syria, from which port relief will be distributed by American Red Cross and Red Crescent agents, aided by the United States consuls and missionaries.

The American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, has just sent $208,000 through the State Department to various distribution centers to be distributed immediately by the committee's agents direct to the most needy survivors of the Armenian deportations and the Syrian famine months. This money will purchase grain, blankets and clothing, giving the sufferers within the Turkish Empire a foretaste of the Christmas cheer which the United States navy boat will bring.

As a necessary preliminary to the sending of the Christmas ship arrangements are being made for collections in the churches of the entire country on Thanksgiving Day, the receipts of which will be used in completing the cargo. The ship will carry 600,000 pounds of rice, 200,000 pounds of lima beans, 400,000 pounds of crushed wheat, 2,100,000 pounds of whole wheat, 500,000 pounds of sugar, 1,000 cases of condensed milk for children, 10,000 barrels of flour, 50,000 gallons of petroleum and 25,000 gallons of cotton seed oil.

Military regulations forbid the carrying of any except new clothing. Hundreds of cases of warm underwear and sweaters and light shoes for men, women and children, stockings for women and children, cotton and woolen socks for men, blankets and blanket shawls, gray cotton and woolen cloth, in the piece, unbleached muslin, and cotton thread, needles and pins will form a part of the cargo. Contributors to the cargo and churches which are raising money are sending their gifts to W. A. Staub, the Red Cross representative in charge of the Christmas Ship, at the Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, New York.

Navy officials and prominent churchmen of all denominations will join the ceremonies to be held at the Christmas Ship's departure, adding to its cargo the holiday good wishes of one country to the stricken races of another.

The money collected on the two days recently proclaimed by President Wilson as American and Syrian Relief Days having been cabled already for immediate relief, more than a quarter of a million dollars additional must be gathered to freight the Christmas Ship. The funds already collected it is believed, will be supplemented to this amount in hundreds of cities in which the proclamation days were used merely as the beginning of local campaigns which will last until after Thanksgiving.

There is little doubt, however, that even after the response of the country to the appeals of the President and the Committee has been registered fully, many of the most elemental needs of the deportation victims, to relieve which in Armenia alone former Ambassador to Turkey Henry Morgenthau estimates $5,000,000 is necessary, will still be uncared for permanently, and that America's assistance to the sufferers of the Orient must continue.

There's little comfort in most low priced cars. You can't use their speeds. They jostle you—they ride roughly—they don't hold the road.

The $635 Overland is different. It is not only the speediest of low priced cars—

But you can use the full speed of its powerful motor when you need it.

It has long 42-inch, easy riding, shock absorbing cantilever rear springs. In addition the 75 B Overland is a longer car—104-inch wheelbase. And it has 4-inch tires.

Its smoothness and ease of riding at any speed would do justice to a much larger and heavier car.

COTTON PRICES UNSETTLED

Sharp Advance in New Crop Positions. Market Closes Steady 3 Points Lower to 30 Points Higher.

New York, Nov. 11.—The cotton market was very irregular today with a sharp advance in new crop positions which carried October up to 19.09, 29 points above Friday's close. Old crop positions were somewhat easier, the entire market closing steady, three points lower to thirty net higher.

The market opened firm and unchanged to 27 points net higher. The buying of new crops was attributed to Liverpool and spot houses, the latter being sellers of July against it. Once the support was withdrawn, however, the market eased off under Wall Street and New Orleans selling, attended by bearish reports as to sentiment in the latter market until July reached 19.29 which was lowest of the day as new buying seemed to develop around 19.30 for the contract, and there was a slight rally near the close. Reports that Friday's selling had been taken by good people failed to inspire any aggressive support and the market on the whole appeared to be in a waiting mood, dependent somewhat upon the attitude of Southern spot markets in view of the last reaction from the 20 cent level. Reuorts from dry goods centers continued favorable.

Private reports from northern Alabama were that 97 per cent. of the crop had been ginned and that all gins will spot running next week. The Liverpool market was closed on Saturday.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Trading Light and Market Steady—Net Gain of 5 to 8 Points.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—The cotton market was steady today on light trading. Prices at one time were 12 to 13 points up, but the close was at a net gain of only 5 to 8 points.

A feature which caused comment, was the absence of liquidation from the long side. Reports of a strong spot demand after hours yesterday, on the basis of 19 cents for middling, was the main stimulating influence. It was said that part of a noted Mississippi plantation crop changed hands at 32 cents a pound.

Cotton futures closing bid: December 18.84; January 19.00; March 19.24; May 19.44; July 19.57.

Spot cotton steady and unchanged. Sales on the spot 1,650; to arrive 750; middling 19.00.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

WHEAT PRICES STRONGER

Advance is Due to Big Export Sales in United States and Heavy Frost Damage in Argentina.

IRREGULARITY IN STOCKS

Over-Production Reported in Certain Lines—Speculative Issues Pressed for Sale—Declines.

New York, Nov. 11.—Revival of peace rumors, echoes of the recent campaign, and reports of over-production in certain lines of industry, notably the automobile trade, probably accounted in varying degree for the irregular and at times unsettled tone of today's market.

Speculative issues were pressed for sale by the professional element. Central Leather made an extreme decline of 5 3-8 points, with 5 for Alcohol, 10 for Bethlehem Steel. 2 to 3 for Motors and allied shares, and 1 to 2 for higher grade specialties, Marines and Sugars.

United States Steel was again the most ctive stock, making an extreme loss of 1 1-2 points, regaining less than half. Rails were consistently heavy.

Coppers were the mainstay of the market, particularly Utah, which rose 3 1-2 points to 119 3-4, a new record; Chino and Ray Coppers also selling at new top prices.

The bank statement was not worthy for the enormous expansion of almost $98,000,000 shown in the actual loan account, this being reflected in large part by increased deposits. A decrease of more than $25,000,000 in reserves again brings the total excess slightly under $100,000,000.

Bonds were irregular on limited dealings. Total sales, par value, amounted to 1,975,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

CHINA WAS STUNNED BY JAPAN'S DEMANDS

Some of Them Were Written and Some Made Verbally.

Such Vague Language Was Used as to Make the Real Meaning Indefinite and Capable of Broad Interpretation.

(Correspondence of Associated Press).

Peking, Oct. 15.—China was stunned by the Japanese demands presented by Baron Hayashi as a condition upon which his government was willing to settle the Chengchiatun incident, which resulted in the death of a number of Japanese and Chinese soldiers.

The Japanese minister presented these demands on September 3. Part of the demands were written, but part were verbal and given with a request that they be held secret. Consequently the full importance of the Japanese demands were not known for many days. In fact the full import of the demands is not now generally realized, as the language of a number of them is so definite that they are capable of very broad interpretation.

The two demands of great moment are those which insist upon China granting police power to Japan in Eastern Inner Mongolia and Southern Manchuria, and upon the employment of Japanese military instructors in military colleges and schools throughout entire China.

The first of these demands was written, but in such general terms that its meaning was indefinite and capable of the broadest sort of interpretation. It exacted the right to establish police stations in a part of Eastern Inner Mongolia and Southern Manchuria where Japanese reside, the number of the stations to be fixed in the future. The treaty of 1915 between Japan and China granted the Japanese the right of residence in South Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolia. The Japanese under this treaty are to be limited to ports open to foreign settlement. At present only five ports are open, but others will be open from time to time when Japan sees fit, and eventually the Japanese will be able to reside legally in all more important Southern Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolian cities and towns. Japanese are now living all over Southern Manchursia and Eastern Inner Mongolia without legal right.

The Chinese insist that granting the Japanese demands for police power in Eastern Inner Mongolia and Southern Manchuria, would amount to the surrender of sovereignty in those places. This view is also shared by all Europeans living in China. However, China is in no position to refuse this demand. The financial needs of the Chinese republic are so pressing that it must depend upon Japan for money, and the situation renders the Chinese foreign office helpless.

The unwritten demands for the employment of Japanese military instructors in all Chinese military colleges and schools, is extremely distasteful to China and has provoked wide discussion in the Chinese press, which believes that the granting of this demand will eventually give Japan domination of the military party in China and practical control of national politics.

From the first of the negotiations concerning the Chengchiatun affair, Japan has assumed that its original statement of the facts is correct, and has proceeded on the theory that the Chinese troops and the Chinese commander at Chengchiatun were wholly in the wrong. This assumption has been very offensive to the Chinese press, which constantly reminds the Japanese that their troops were in Chengchiatun wholly without legal right, as Eastern Inner Mongolia is not even open to Japanese settlement. The entrance of Japanese into Southern Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolia is denounced by the Chinese press as an invasion of Chinese sovereign right. Furthermore, Chinese officials hold that the Japanese troops were aggressive in the Chengchiatun incident, and should have expected a battle when they attempted to invade the headquarters of the Chinese military detachment.

The six other demands concerning the Chengchiatun incident relate chiefly to the military officers and troops in Eastern Inner Mongolia and Southern Manchuria ,and do not have the international import of the two demands first mentioned. The Japanese insist upon the removal of Colonel Chang, who commanded the Chinese detachment at Chengchiatun when the clash occurred. They also demand the punishment of Lieutenant General Feng Teh-lin, who commanded the entirely division of troops, of which the Chengchiatun detachment was a part. The Japanaese also demand the posting of official notices through South Manchuria and Eastern Inner Mongolia, warning Chinese troops against further clashes with Japanese trops. Payment of compensation to the families of the Japanese soldiers who were killed is also demanded, and an apology from General Chang Tso-lin, at Mukden, the military-governor of Fengtien province, is insisted upon.

Clifford Grant, chief of detectives, in a statement tonight said:

Detective Grant's Statement.

"There was nothing really official so far as I know about the letters. There were three letters from the some person. Each wound up with the words 'My dead.' They were written in the form of a diary. Of course, there were some things in them which the British censor might not have passed.

"It seems that the letters were entrusted to some one aboard the Oscar II., who, after receiving them, saw an opportunity to use them. Graves admitted that he wanted to make money out of the letters. He said he paid $2,400 for them and wanted to make a $600 profit."

When graves was searched detectives found a small combination knife and pistol. The detectives handled the odd weapon carefully until Graves told that the bullet "would not even pierce a man's coat."

It was said at the embassy that Graves claimed he had in his possession a letter to the managing editor of a New York newspaper from its correspondent. The embassy does not know [illegible] of this letter. The papers [illegible] from Graves today remain in the hands of the Department of Justice and will be used as evidence.

A high official of the embassy said tonight:

"We had this man arrested because we wanted to let it be known that no person attached directly or indirectly to this embassy can be made a victim of blackmailing schemes. We have no secrets."

Officials said tonight that the Countess von Bernstorff probably would not be asked to appear personally against Graves.

Leaves for New York.

Graves left for New York late tonight after issuing a statement denying that the Countess von Bernstorff's name had been mentioned in his talks with Prince Hatzfeldt.

"In my business transactions with Prince Hatzfeldt," said he, "I considered that I was rendering the embassy a great serving, letting the original letters go into the hands of the embassy for $3,000. The parties who conveyed the letters from Germany to the United States incurred $2,450 expense. Not one cent of the $3,000 would have been mine. The benefit to me in handing these letters over to the German embassy was in what good that service to the embassy would be to me in Germany.

"At no time in my interviews and conversations with Prince Hatzfeldt was Countess von Bernstorff mentioned. In fact, Countess Bernstorff has nothing at all to do with it.

"It is true the letters are addressed to her, but that was just a 'cover.' Those letters were entirely official documents."

GRAVES CONVICTED IN 1912 FOR SPYING IN SCOTLAND.

New York, Nov. 11.—Dr. Armgaard Karl Graves, as he was then known, first came to public notice in this country when he was convicted in July, 1912, by the Scottish High Court of Judiciary at Edinburgh, Scotland, of spying and sentenced to serve eight months in prison. It was alleged that notes concerning the guns under construction for the British government, and other incriminating documents, were found in his possession.

Graves appeared in New York in June, 1913, and was quoted as making a long statement to the effect that he was released from the Scottish prison upon condition that he enter the British secret service, but that after he had performed the service required of him, the British government refused to pay him a reward that had been promised.

MAXTON WILL CELEBRATE IN GOOD STYLE MONDAY NIGHT

Whole Town to Take Part in Great Jubilee of Noise-Making.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Maxton, N. C., Nov. 11. — At a meeting of enthusiastic Wilson adherents (and that means practically everybody in town) last night it was decided to hold on next Monday night a great jubilee in celebration of the greatest American President's re-election to the greatest elective office in the world. Arrangements were planned to have a brass band, and this will be supplemented by every known device for making a noise.

Those known to be gifted in using the latter will be notified and no doubt all will be there, ready to contribute their part in the performance. Automobiles will carry the crowds through the town, and perhaps to some nearby places, and torchlights will be one of the many attractive features of the parade. After there has been a complete job of this, the crowds will be entertained in the city hall by prominent speakers in short talks, and fruit and other refreshments will be served free. Everyone in this section, especially the township and the adjoining ones, are invited and expected to be present, and get the full benefit of this get-together meeting. This invitation also applied to those voting for Mr. Hughes, but who no doubt are lining up to vote for Wilson, if he ever runs again.

Miss Anna McQueen, of Rowland, N. C., a returned missionary, of Fayetteville Presbytery, to China, is in town in the interest of her work.——The Radcliffe Cahutauqua will begin its three-day course here next week, beginning Saturday and extending through Tuesday. —— Dr. S. A. Steele delivered a very interesting lecture to a good crowd in the auditorium of Carolina College Thursday evening.

ELECTION RETURNS COMING TO SECRETARY OF STATE

Three Separate Packages of Returns From Each County Required.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—Official election returns from the various counties of the State are beginning to come in now to the Secretary of State, but the county authorities have until 12 days after the election, according to the election laws, to get the returns from the county seats to the Secretary of State at Raleigh. Fifteen counties have been heard from, some of them with only partial returns. This is for the reason that the presidential, state and other returns are placed in different envelopes to be forwarded to Raleigh instead of having them all enclosed in a single package. The Secretary of State is to receive three different reports of returns, one to hold as record in the Department of State, another to be delivered to the State Board of Elections to be officially canvassed during Thanksgiving week for declaring the result of the election officially, and the other to be held for the speaker of the House of Representatives for the official canvass of the State and National returns by the General Assembly, which is always done by the Senate and House in joint session soon after the Legislature organizes.

TWO BRITISH AND A DANISH SHIP ARE REPORTED SUNK.

Lloyd's Announces That Sinking of Steamer Bogota is Confirmed.

London, Nov. 11.—The reported sinking of three steamships, two British and one Danish, and confirmation of the sinking of the British steamer Bogota, is made in an announcement issued by Lloyd's tonight. The Bogota, the shipping agency said last night, was believed to have been sunk. The agency now reports that 17 of the crew of the Bogota have been picked up and that two boats are unaccounted for.

The British steamers Marga and Earl of Forfar are reported lost and the Danish steamship Freja has been sunk by a German submarine.

The loss of three Norwegian steamships is reported in Reuter dispatches. The Norwegian steamer Tripel is said to have been sunk by a submarine, while the steamers Baltimore and Fordalen were torpedoed. Thirty-six of the crew of the Tripel are reported to have been saved and th crews of the Baltimore and Fordalen have been landed.

PLEA FOR CHARITABLE INVASION OF MEXICO

Financier Asks Help for the Orphans of His Country.

Takes the View That Mexico is Being Neglected, While United States is Lending Aid In Abundance to Europe.

New York, Nov. 7.—A plea for an American invasion of Mexico, not with military forces, but with the arms of charity, is made by Don Louis Roumagnac, a prominent Mexican financier who has arrived in this city with the hope of bringing this charitable invasion to a head.

"As I see the magnficent and truly admirable generosity of Americans lavished without measure on the children of dead or wounded Allies," M. Roumagnac said, "I cannot but wonder why these splendid sentinments, these great philanthropic activities cannot, with the self-same organizations—especially as regards the orphans—also benefit that neighboring country, Mexico."

Mr. Roumagnac thinks immense advantages would result from a movement in America to aid the stricken and helpless orphans of Mexico. Many of them he would like to see brought to the United States for education, and then go back to their homes and "spread a doctrine that will not only cement these two republics in strong bonds of friendship but will enlighten these 15,000,000 people, of which at present but one tenth can readand write."

It seemed to him that although America had a great humanitarian program, Mexico in every case and "almost purposely" was left out of this program. "Mexico," he said, "has the same rights, the same aspirations, that any other country has. After the European war Mexico will offer the United States many compensations, both industrially and commercially. It is really the only independent neighbor of the United States, but still Mexicans are not being welcomed here as individuals or as a commercial entity.

"Annoyances lie in wait for Mexican citizens whenever they cross the frontier, as business men and manufacturers' credit is closed to them, because Americans are wrongly informed on the subject of Mexico and of what is going on there."

Mr. Roumagnac thought if his ideas of a small army of Mexican children being brought to this country for education be carried out there would come "a new and changed generation in Mexico, well equipped to make the most of the resources of the country, fully appreciating the industrial progress of the American people and capable of realizing that men are enemies only when they lack understanding."

"I foresee," he continued, "a commission organized by distinguished and generous minded citizens of both countries and perfect harmony result from their deliberations—kindly in character because born of charity—from which politics and all idea of personal gain will have been carefully excluded. I foresee a Mexican admiring the United States of America and an American marveling at the natural beauties and resources of Mexico. I foresee respect for the rights of each grow out of mutual admiration; and through this perfect knowledge of the two languages, and this daily contact of thousands of children. I can foresee perfect harmony of interests, absolute understanding, which will secure bread and comfort for numbers of citizens of the two countries, united henceforth, and strong with the strength that comes of mutual helpfulness.

"In a similar way, in the privileged climate of Mexico, colleges and sanatoriums for physically weak children from North America would increase the diffusion of the two languages and bring about a more complete knowledge of the two countries."

If the people of North America would hold out a helping hand to Mexico, Mexico would be grateful and a number of prejudices would die out, he said.

AGENTS ARE CAUTIONED.

Will First Consult Home Offices Before Issuing Marine Insurance.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Leading marine insurance agencies in New Orleans today received telegraphic instructions from New York headquarters of English companies to place no war risk insurance upon vessels flying flags of belligerent governments unless approved by the home office. These instructions, it was stated, were issued because of rumors that a German submarine was operating in the Gulf of Mexico or North Caribbean sea. No confirmation of such rumors were obtainable here.
